TRIPLE VICTORY FOR GOV. SULZER

Presiding Judge Barred Evidence Intended to Prove Political Bargains.

FEW WITNESSES NOW REMAIN

Case for Managers Likely Will be Concluded Today—Further Campaign Contributions and Men to Testify.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Governor Sulzer today won a triple victory over his accusers at the trial of his impeachment.

Presiding Judge Cullen, of the High Court, barred the introduction of evidence intended to prove the Governor had made a corrupt political bargain with Assemblyman Patrie, of Greene county, and held as incompetent testimony brought forward to show that he had made similar bargains with Assemblyman Sweet, of Oswego county, and Assemblyman Prime, of Essex.

The legislation in each case had to do with highway and bridge improvements provided for in bills passed by the Legislature to which the assemblymen were desirous of getting the Governor's signature. In the Patrie case no charges were brought in the articles of impeachment and on this ground Judge Cullen threw the charge out.

The Sweet and Prime cases were specified in Article VII of the impeachment, charging that the Governor had vetoed one bill and signed the other.

Assemblyman Sweet today testified that when he urged the Governor to aprove his bill he was asked whether he had voted for the direct primary bill, which had been defeated in the regular session of the legislature.

"I told him I voted against it," said the witness.

The primary bill was to come up again at the extraordinary session in July and the Governor wanted to know how Sweet proposed to vote at that time. Sweet said he replied:

"According to the sentiment and in the interest of my district."

"How did you vote on the primary bill at the regular session" was asked.

To this question the defense objected.

"Objection sustained," ruled Judge Cullen. "He has already said he voted against the bill and if this witness was already against the bill it showed he did not receive the price of a corrupt bargain."

On practically the same grounds Judge Cullen held that the charges in connection with the Prime case likewise were invalid.

With the introduction of evidence of three more campaign contributions not reported in the Governor's sworn statement of campaign receipts, and of more evidence concerning the Governor's alleged Wall Street speculation, the assembly managers today drew near the end of their case.

With the calling of possibly two more contributors and one or two other witnesses tomorrow the case against the Governor probably will be completed.

Frederick L. Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy" in Wall Street transactions, is in a sanitarium, according to counsel for the Governor, but will consent to testify under stipulation that he will not be placed under arrest for refusing to obey the subpoena of the Frawley investigating committee. Counsel for the managers tonight had not decided whether to agree to this stipulation.

If a subpoena can be served upon him, J. B. Gray, of the stock exchange firm of Fuller & Gray, where the Governor is alleged to have speculated with some of his campaign contributions, will be a witness tomorrow. Thus far counsel have been unable to locate him.

Fuller and his employes today gave testimony tending to show that Colwell had purchased 300 shares of Big Four stock through Fuller & Gray, for which was paid $17,000 in cash.

Melville B. Fuller produced a transcript of Governor Sulzer's account with him firm, Harris & Fuller, as brought out by the Frawley committee. Counsel for the impeachment managers merely brought out that during November and December of 1912 Governor Sulzer paid into the firm $16,000 in cash.

Just at the close of the session today the assembly managers introduced as evidence a bank check of Hugh J. Reilly, a contractor and railroad builder for the Cuban government, who recently announced he had loaned Governor Sulzer $26,000 in cash. Reilley had relations with Sulzer when the latter was chairman of the foreign affairs committee in Congress. He may be a witness tomorrow.

BIXBY NOT GUILTY.

Millionaire is Acquitted of Charge of Contributing to Girls' Downfall.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29.—George H. Bixby, a millionaire, of Long Beach, Cal., charged with having contributed to the downfall of minor young women, tonight was found not guilty by a jury. The case was given to the jury late today.

In charging the jury, Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe instructed its members to disregard the allegations of conspiracy made by Bixby, himself, on the witness stand, and to convict him, if he were deemed guilty beyond a reasonable doubt of the offense charged against him.

New York, Sept. 29.—Timothy L. Woodruff, former Lieutenant Governor of New York, tonight was stricken in Carnegie hall just as he concluded an address at the fusion notification meeting. Physicians who attended Mr. Woodruff announced that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis and said his condition was serious.

Must Oust Bryan.

J. Sergeant Cram, who on his arrival from abroad, said that the general opinion in Europe was that President Wilson must oust Bryan as Secretary of State in order to prevent the people ousting Wilson. According to Mr. Cram, Europe thinks that Bryan has made a joke of our diplomacy, and that the United States has been degraded because of the submissive manner with which the State Department has treated the insulting attitude of Mexico.

AMERICAN ROAD CONGRESS

Secretary Houston Addresses Great Meeting at Detroit—Movement Not for Automobilists Alone—Other Speakers Are Also Heard.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 29.—Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, in an address before the American Road Congress, here today, expressed his approval of the efforts of the organization and explained the interests of the Federal government with reference to road building.

He urged good roads for the farmer in preference to great trans-Continental highway for automobilists, and at the same time he said he did not under-estimate the valuable service rendered by automobilists in the propaganda for road-building.

"The essential thing to be done," he said, "is the providing of good roads, which shall get products from the way-farms to the nearest station, and make rural life more profitable, comfortable, pleasurable.

"The first practical essentials in the planning of road legislation would seem to me to recognize the States as to the smallest unit with which the Federal government might maintain.

Convicts Mutiny And Escape

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 29.—Every officer in Lenoir county today is looking for 10 convicts who yesterday escaped from a county camp about three miles north of here after badly beating D. F. Jackson, a guard.

Jackson was in charge of the 27 men at the camp, and an 18-year-old boy was his only assistant. The mutiny occurred in broad daylight. Henderson Williams, a long-term man, and "Doghead," a notorious convict, headed the uprising. "Doghead," whose real name is believed to be Nostor Whitley, seized the rifle from the hands of the boy guard and pointed it at Jackson. Jackson refused to give up his arms and fought desperately when Williams, Whitley and another negro attempted to take them away from him. He was severely beaten about the head and bitten on the hands before the rifle and revolver were taken by the mutinous blacks; his previous good treatment of the convicts probably saved his life. The boy was not hurt.

Seventeen of the negroes refused to leave, and the two parties, in opposite ends of the enclosure, threatened to clash. When the friendly convicts started a rush to rescue Jackson, "Doghead" drove them back at the point of the gun. With Jackson and his assistant disarmed and held at bay, the 10 deserters cut their leg shackles away with an axe, a procedure which required some time and was executed in plain view of several farm houses.

Then the mutineers took to the woods, heading in the direction of Neuse river, where they, wearing the stripes, are now believed to be in hiding in the low grounds. The convicts made a young negro called "Tom-tit," join them against his will. He went two miles with them, and at the first opportunity broke and ran. "Doghead" shot at him, but "Tom-tit" escaped unhurt and returned to the camp.

Henderson Williams is a 10-year man who was convicted last Spring after participating in a series of robberies which gave the authorities from Goldsboro to the coast much trouble. The case against him was worked up by Norfolk Southern Railroad detectives. "Doghead" was sentenced to three years for a series of small offences.

While hunting squirrels in the woods at a point five miles from here late Saturday, Andrew Wallace, 12 years of age, shot and instantly killed his cousin, Lawson Faulkner, of about the same age. The shooting was accidental. The top of Faulkner's head was blown away. The fathers of both boys are well-to-do farmers, and both were in Jacksonville, Fla., at the time.

NOT MRS. NICHOLS HELD IN NEW YORK

Woman Arrested is Discharged, Though Mrs. LeMassena Positively Identifies.

$50,000 FOR FALSE ARREST

Mrs. Annie Bailey and Miss Adelaide Meares Both Testify Woman Not Mrs. Nichols—Mrs. LaMassena Sure She Is.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Frances Maas, who was arrested on Saturday on complaint of Mrs. Helene D. LeMassena, who told the police that the defendant was Mrs. Elizabeth Van B. Nichols, wanted by the Wilmington, N. C., authorities for embezzling $30,000 from Mrs. LeMassena, was today discharged by Magistrate House in the Toombs Police court. Mrs. Maas had spent two nights in the Tombs. When Magistrate House discharged her, he did so with the apologies of the court.

Mrs. LeMassena Positive.

Mrs. LeMassena was positive when she went on the witness stand, that Mrs. Maas was the woman wanted in Wilmington. Her son, John, was equally positive. Both declared that she had changed some, but that there was no doubt of her identity. When Mrs. LeMassena said that her hair, almost white, was false, she took it down and shook the strands to show that the hair was her own. She was almost overcome with emotion.

Wilmington Women Testify.

Charles Podsonick, a clerk in the office of Alexander Bacon, who was attorney for Mrs. Nichols, declared that Mrs. Maas was not the woman wanted. Mrs. Annie Bailey, a woman of distinction, whose home is in Wilmington, N. C., said that she read of the arrest of her old friend. Mrs. Nichols, and went yesterday to the Tombs to see her. She took with her Miss Adelaide Meares, also of Wilmington, who had known Mrs. Nichols for 35 years. Both were much surprised when Mrs. Maas was brought out to them. She was not their friend.

Mrs. Maas Sues for $50,000.

Edward Tierney, a clerk of the Hotel Victoria, testified that Mrs. Maas had been living at the hotel for the last six years. The crime with which she was charged was committed, it is alleged, only a year ago.

Before the LeMassenas, mother and son, left the criminal courts building, they were served by Attorney Rosalsky, for Mrs. Maas, with papers in a suit for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment.

Associated Press Account.

New York, Sept. 29.—Held in prison here since Saturday last charged with being a fugitive from justice, Mrs. Francis Lavy today was released after many witnesses failed to confirm the identification of Mrs. Helen P. LeMassena, of West Philadelphia, that she was the Mrs. Elizabeth Van B. Nichols wanted in Wilmington, N. C., for an alleged swindling transaction.

Mr. LeMassena formerly lived in Wilmington, where about three years ago she alleged she had been swindled in a real estate deal by a Mrs. Elizabeth Van B. Nichols, a society woman of that town.

On leaving the court room Mrs. LeMassena was served with papers in a suit for $50,000 damages brought by Mrs. Lavy for false imprisonment.

The above news will leave the New Hanover county officials wondering, for they had made preparation to go after Mrs. Nichols, and last night had received no news from the New York authorities to the effect that they had blundered in making the arrest. Solicitor Homer L. Lyon, of Whiteville, was here yesterday and prepared the application for extradition papers, and Sheriff S. P. Cowan had planned to carry them with him to Raleigh today, get Governor Craig's signature and go on to New York for Mrs. Nichols. Now the whole thing is off.

It was rumored here yesterday that a Wilmington man had knowledge that Mrs. Nichols sailed from New York two weeks ago for Europe, and that immediately he heard of the supposed arrest of the lady, he declared that it was a mistake.

Crazed By Drugs Negroes Amuck

Harriston, Miss., Sept. 29.—Another victim today brought up to eleven, three white persons and eight negroes, the death list resultant upon a reign of terror begun here yesterday morning at 2 o'clock by two drug-crazed mulatto boys, Walter and Will Jones, the last of whom was lynched just as a company of National Guardsmen arrived from Natchez to prevent a race riot which was incipient, at 10 o'clock the same morning.

The shooting started in the negro quarter by Walter Jones, aged 20, when a negro woman and Thad Grayson was shot and killed. Walter went by his home and aroused his brother and together they proceeded through the main street of the town shooting at everybody in sight. Citizens, fearing a riot of more serious proportions, did not venture out. The two boys went to the home of a former constable, Frank Keinsley, and calling him out they shot him dead, wounding a son of the officer as he reached for a gun. The negroes then proceeded to the railroad depot where Conductor E. B. Appleby was standing

NEW TARIFF BILL REPORTED IN HOUSE

Will Likely Receive the President's Signature by End of This Week.

NEW CURRENCY MEASURE

No Agreement on Cotton Futures Tax and May Go Over to Regular Session—Estimated Revenues for Government.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Democratic tariff revision bill, first on the programme of reforms maped out when President Wilson came into office, today advanced to its last Congressional stage, when the joint conference committee returned it to the House with the unanimous endorsement of the Democratic conferees.

Leaders in both Houses of Congress tonight were confident the bill, now practically complete, would be signed by President Wilson before the end of this week. It scarcely will leave the center of the stage before the currency bill is forced to the front, and coincident with its consideration will begin the administration work on the anti-trust and railroad control programmes. These measures will be brought forward when the December session opens.

President Wilson is satisfied that with the tariff bill out of the way, Congress will take up the currency question and dispose of it before adjournment. The course to be followed in the Senate has not been mapped out, but there is a growing belief among supporters of the administration bill that the Senate will take up the currency question at an early date, even though its banking and currency committee has not settled the measure's details.

The tariff conference reported today to the House soon after that body convened at noon. During the morning,

Take Deputies Out Civil Service

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—Senator Overman is in a fair way to get his resolution passed providing that all deputies to collectors of internal revenue and United States marshal shall be appointed without regard to civil service.

Senator Overman's resolution was introduced some months ago and the sub-committee on appropriations, of which Mr. Overman is chairman, has made a favorable report. Tomorrow, it is thought, the full committee will take like action, and then it only remains for the Democratic Senate to pass the measure.

If the resolution becomes a law, Collectors Bailey and Watts will be at liberty to name whomsover they please as their deputies, and those Democrats who succeed Marshals Dockery and Logan will have a like privilege.

Glenn in Washington.

Former Governor Robert B. Glenn is in our midst again. The Governor reached the city on an early train and later called at the White House. He waited in the outer offices for something over an hour, when he was rewarded by seeing Mr. Wilson for a couple of minutes. Mr. Glenn also visited Secretary Daniels and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn. "Uncle Joe" Cannon and Senators Simmons and Overman were visitors at the office of Col. Osborn.

OUTLINES

Completed and ready for passage, with every indication that President Wilson will affix his signature before the end of the week, the Democratic tariff bill was reported to the House yesterday; the currency bill will immediately follow and thereafter will begin the administration work on the anti-trust and railroad control programmes; the cotton futures tax is still in dispute with the likelihood it will be taken up as separate legislation at the regular session.

It developed yesterday that it was not Mrs. Nichols, but a Mrs. Maas, of New York, who was arrested there Saturday at the instance of Mrs. LeMassena as the woman wanted at Wilmington on a charge of embezzlement; she was released with apologies of the court.

Samuel Untermyer was before the Senate committee yesterday with reference to the currency bill, recommending many radical changes in the structure of the bill.

Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, addressed the American Road Congress at Detroit yesterday, making a plea for roads that would benefit the farmer rather than for trans-continental highways built for the pleasure of automobilists.

Governor Sulzer scored yesterday at the Albany impeachment trial when Judge Cullen barred the introduction of testimony to prove the Governor had made a corrupt political bargain with three Assemblymen.

New York markets: Money on call steady, 2 3-4 to 3 per cent; ruling rate 2 3-4; closing bid 2 3-4 to 2 7-8 per cent; time loans steady. Flour about steady. Wheat firm; No. 2 red 95. Corn firm; export 79 3-4. Turpentine steady. Rosin quiet. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplads 14.20.

Making Stubborn Defense for Governor Sulzer.

Cady Herrick, the eminent attorney who is chief counsel for the defense at the trial of Governor Sulzer before the High Court of Impeachment in Albany. The aggressive manner in which Attorney Herrick is assaulting the allegations of the prosecution has considerably strengthened Governor Sulzer in his fight for exoneration.

DETAILS OF THE INCOME TAX

Treasury Department at Work on Plan of Collecting New Federal Source of Revenue—Duties Imposed on Citizens.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Treasury Department is preparing for a flood of questions concerning the new income tax, realizing that this feature of the tariff bill, about to become law, strikes more intimately at the tax-paying custom than do the indirect taxes collected through customs duties.

One of the first steps will be to distribute income tax blanks through postoffices, internal revenue offices and other Federal agencies.

However, the fact that a blank or a request to pay the tax has not been received will not exempt a taxable person from the penalties of the law.

Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, who drew the income tax provision of the bill, today made public a detailed explanation of the tax plan as it will touch the individual citizen.

"The treasury regulations soon to be prepared will make clear to every taxpayer the requirements of the law and its application to income derived from the various kinds of business," said Mr. Hull.

"Any person who keeps familiar with his business affairs during the year has no difficulty in estimating his tax return. The income is divided into two phases, the 'normal' tax of one per cent. on the whole income above $3,000, and the additional tax that begins with an extra one per cent. above $20,000 and is graduated to 6 per cent. above $500,000. Wherever the income tax is paid 'at the source' by a corporation for its employes or in similar cases, only the one per cent. normal is so paid. The individual has to pay any additional tax himself. The provisions of the law requiring the tax to be withheld at the source does not take effect until November 1st, 1913.

"For the first year, the citizen will make return to the local internal revenue collector before March 1st, 1914, as to his earnings from March 1st, 1913, to the end of this year. The collector will notify him June 1st how much he owes and the tax must be paid by June 30th. After next year, the tax will apply on the full calendar year.

"If the income of a person is under $3,000, or if the tax on same is withheld for payment at the source, or if the same is to be paid elsewhere in the United States, affidavit may be made to such fact and thereupon no return will be required.

"The tax covers all incomes of citizens of the United States whether living here or abroad; those of foreigners living in the United States and the net incomes from property owned or business carried on in the United States by persons living abroad.

"The net income" includes all incomes from salaries or any compensation for personal services, incomes from trades, professions, business or commerce; from sales or dealings in personal property or real estate; from interest, rent, dividend and securities from all lawful business carried on for gain.

Wills or bequests will not be considered income nor will life insurance paid to a beneficiary or returned to the insured person as a "paid up" or "surrendered policy" be taxable. Interest on such property will be included as income, however.

The amount that may be deducted from a total income includes the cost of carrying on business, actual losses, depreciation allowances and tax exempt or tax paid money. Living expenses cannot be deducted, nor can money spent for permanent improvements to property.

"The form that is to be filled out by the taxpayer soon will be drawn up by the commissioner of internal revenue. The taxpayer will have to give his gross revenue and then specify and claim the deductions to which he feels entitled. Unless a man's income tax is 'paid at the source' he must hunt up a tax blank, fill it out and see that it finds its way to the proper official in his district before March 1st, 1914.

"Firms, corporations and the like having the handling of interests, rents, salaries or other portions of the income of any citizen are compelled to deduct the tax for the individual and pay it to the government.

"The individual then will get a receipt showing he has paid his tax."

GENERAL REVISION OF BILL

Recommended by Samuel Untermyer to Senate Banking and Currency Committee—Would Abolish "Advisory Council."

Washington, Sept. 29.—General revision of the administration currency bill in detail, to insure the carrying out of its purposes, today was recommended to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee by Samuel Untermyer, of New York. Many of the changes proposed by Mr. Untermyer affected vital points of the bill.

Criticising the bill's definition of "commercial paper" on which currency would be issued as loose and restricted, Mr. Untermyer declared strict lines should be drawn to allow the issue of currency only on commercial paper representing the purchase or sale of a commodity which would enter into commerce. He recommended allowing the proposed regional reserve banks to re-discount a wider range of paper than would be eligible as a basis for currency. Mr. Untermyer also recommended altering the plan of organizing of the proposed regional reserve banks.

The bill, as at present framed, Mr. Untermyer declared, gave the banks too much power in the organization and control of the proposed new system. He recommended abolishing the proposed "advisory council" of bankers as an adjunct to the Federal reserve board, and suggested the government be given closer powers of regulation and removal over regional reserve directors, elected by the banks. He urged, however, that the banks be given a flat profit of 6 per cent on their investment in the regional banks, and that the government be given all profits above that figure.

The right of the regional banks to enter the open market in competition with the member banks, was absolutely necessary, he said.

Mr. Untermyer disagreed flatly with an argument advanced by Senators Reed, Hitchcock and Bristow under which the government would issue currency directly to the individual banks on their assets up to 75 per cent of their capital stock, with a provision for a 50 per cent gold reserve. This plan, he said, would be inelastic and impracticable.

With the end of tariff legislation in sight, the Senate committee will continue detailed hearings on the currency bill, which will cover several weeks.

Fierce Fighting on Mexican Field

Piedras Negras, Mexico, Sept. 29.—More than 400 Federal and rebel dead were left on the field below Barroteran, where a fierce struggle took place between the two forces Saturday and Sunday, according to reports brought to Constitutionalist headquarters today.

Both sides last night were compelled to retire from the fild on account of lack of water and ammunition, the Constitutionalists falling back to Sabinas where they dynamited the railroad bridge crossing the Sabinas river to prevent another attack from the Federals under Gen. Maas. Witnesses say desperate hand-to-hand fighting followed the exhaustion of the Revolutionists' ammunition and that the Federals at one time were on the point of fleeing from the field when they were rallied by their officers.

The dead are piled high. Both sides late Saturday agreed to a virtual armistive to care for the wounded.

Corporation Commission Submits List Including All Its Own Members

RAILROADS REPLY TO JUSTICE

Session of House Featured by List of Legislators Who Ride Free and Reply of Railroads as to Proposal.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—There came to the House of Representatives today from the Corporation Commission the statement of members of the Legislature and State officers, as far as the commissioners could ascertain them, who ride on railroad passes. The list follows:

The commission explained that numbers of these passes were on newspaper advertising basis or as directors of railroad companies and others as attorneys and for other relations.

Justice Makes Report.

Another distinctive feature of the session of the House was the presentation by Representative Justice of the reply of the railroad companies to the legislative inquiry propounded through Justice as to alleged "ambiguities" in the pending proposal for freight rate settlement.

Mr. Justice prefaced his reading of the reply with an hour's speech on the rate situation in general and the development of events leading up to the amended proposal.

Reply of Railroads on "Ambiguities."

"Washington, D. C., Sept. 28, 1913, "Hon. E. J. Justice, Raleigh, N. C.

"Dear Sir:—Mr. Finley received only this morning your letter of the 27th instant, although he learned yesterday through Mr. Miller, that you had mailed him such a letter.

"Mr. Finley being, as you will understand, without authority to speak on behalf of all the North Carolina carriers, a conference with such executives of other companies as were available was at once sought, so that an answer, as authoritative as possible, might be sent you in time for you to receive it, as you request, by tomorrow, the 29th instant.

"Referring to your inquiries which are as follows:

"1. Whether the proposed rates on Western traffic are confined to the traffic from Western points on which rates are made by combination on Ohio and Mississippi river crossings or includes also traffic from territory west of the Buffalo-Pittsburg territory as to which the rates now base on Virginia cities.

"This point is dealt with on the first page of the carriers' proposals of September 12th, as follows:

Rates from the West.

"'This heading is intended to embrace points on and north of the Ohio river, and points west of the Buffalo-Pittsburg zone and points west of the Mississippi river from which rates are made by combination on the Ohio and Mississippi river crossings.'

"The qualifying expression here used, namely: 'from which rates are made by combination on Ohio and Mississippi river crossings,' applies only to the following words in the paragraph referred to, namely: 'Points west of the Mississippi river,' and are not intended to apply to the remainder of the clause, namely: 'Points on and north of the Ohio river, west of the Buffalo-Pittsburg zone'. The proposal, therefore, means that proportional rates proposed to be established south of Virginia cities will apply on traffic from points west of Buffalo-Pittsburg zone whether basing on Ohio river crossings or basing on Virginia cities.

When in Effect.

"We note your reference to putting the proposed Western rates into effect within sixty days. The situation in regard to that is this: The procedure, required by the inter-State commerce law to put the rates into effect and the provisions of the fourth section of that law will require, as a preliminary, a statement of the matter in general terms to the Inter-State Commerce Commission for the purpose of obtaining its permission, necessary under the fourth section, to put the rates into effect so far as the provisions of the long and short haul clause are concerned. When that permission shall have been obtained, it will be necessary to work up the changes in tariffs, one of which now has 502 pages, and, after the amended tariffs are printed, to file them with the Inter-State Commerce Commission. We should hope to be able to accomplish the filing of these tariffs with the Inter-State Commerce Commission within sixty days after relief by that commission from the provisions of the long and short haul clause is obtained—certainly it will be done in good faith and just as quickly as it is physically practicable to accomplish the work. The Inter-State commerce law requires that thirty days shall elapse after the rates are thus filed before they go into effect unless the commission shall see fit to shorten this period.

As to Inter-State Ruling.

"2. Whether it is the understanding of the carriers that that portion of the agreement with the representatives of the State made in Raleigh on February 26th has been eliminated which requires that a ruling shall be obtained by the State from the Inter-State Commerce Commission that the

Made a Home Run and a Single Besides Starring in the Field

SECOND GAME TO BRAVES

Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers Defeated Phillies in First Game, Second Game of Fourteen-Inning Tie.

In order to give the regular line-up a week of much needed rest, Manager McGraw presented a makeshift team yesterday in the double-header with Boston, and won the opening game, but dropped the latter even to the Braves, 8 to 1.

Jim Thorpe was seen in his first full game as a member of the Giant team, and played star ball, putting over a home run and a single, besides pulling down several difficult flies, and aided materially in the Giants' victory. In the second game, Schauer, the Giants' $11,000 recruit twirled and was easy for the Brave batsmen.

The Brooklyn Dodgers took the opening game of the final series with the Phillies by a score of 3 to 1, but the latter event of the double bill was called on account of darkness in the 14th inning, both sides having put over four runs.

The Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds split even on their double-header Sunday afternoon, the final games of the series.

The Giants will play the final game at Boston today, and will return to the Polo Grounds where the final series with the Phillies begins day after tomorrow, consisting of five and one-ninth games to be played in three days. The Phillies play at home today and tomorrow before they go to New York.

Jim Thorpe.

Boston, Sept. 29.—New York having clinched the National League pennant, presented a makeshift team today which won the first game 5 to 3, and lost the second to Boston by 8 to 1. Darkness stopped the second contest in the seventh inning. Jim Thorpe, the former amateur athletic star, played his first full game as a member of the Giants. He made a home run and a single in the first game and pulled down several difficult flies. In the second game Schauer, New York's $11,000 recruit twirler, was given a try-out and was easy for the local batsmen.

WOLGAST AND NELSON.

Ten-round Bout Scheduled for Milwaukee on October 13th.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 29.—Ad Wolgast and Battling Nelson, two former lightweight champions, today signed articles for a ten-round no-decision boxing contest at 133 pounds to be held here October 13th. Both Wolgast and Nelson fought several battles in Milwaukee before they became champions, but neither has appeared in the ring here since.

CAROLINA BANKERS.

Favor New Currency Bill With Some Modifications Thereto.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29. — The executive committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, in session here today, endorsed the banking and currency reform bill, with some modifications, now before Congress. By resolution it said it believed this would meet the requirements of the country, and that the recommendations of the recent bankers conference in Chicago furnished a reasonable ground for the modification of the pending bill.

Holts-Hill Drug Store Building Destroyed—Partially Insured.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 29.—The building formerly known as the Holts-Hill Drug Company building, of late occupied by Mrs. M. A. Dorkins, general merchant, was burned to the ground tonight. Building was owned by Major E. R. Mackethan, loss partially covered by insurance.

Walter Johnson Says "Athletics"

(By Walter Johnson, World's Greatest Pitcher.)

The Athletics will win the world's series, because they are stronger offensively than the Giants. I do not believe the Giants will be any more successful against Bender and Plank than they were two years ago.

I have pitched against the Athletics seven times this year. Three times they beat me and three times I won from them. Once I faced them after we had practically lost the game. My experience has been that, unless I am right in every sense of the word and able to pitch shut-out ball, they have beaten me.

I have often been asked if the Athletics have a batting weakness. If they have I never found it. Mack hasn't a weak batter on his team. Even his pitchers are dangerous in a pinch. I know this from experience.

Baker and McInnis are the most dangerous batsmen on the team. If either has a failing I don't know what it is. Both will go after bad balls and make base hits when a pitcher least expects it. Usually, too, they do this when a hit means a run.

Collins is another sterling batsman. A man has to pitch to him all the time. He seldom goes after one inside or outside, and when he gets the pitcher in a hole he will hit safely three times out of four.

Eddie Murphy, Oldring and Strunk are up there crowding the plate all the time. They are hard men to pitch to for many reasons. They may be fooled on a curve three times running, and the fourth time when a run is needed, they will whale a hook for extra bases.

Schang and Lapp, the catchers, are good hitters, and Dannie Murphy, the pinch hitter, is a slugger always feared.

If Brown, Shawkey, Houck or Bush start in a world's series game and can hold the Giants to three runs, the Athletics will win every time. I look, though, for Bender and Plank to win the championship for the team.

Mathewson and Marquard will not fool the Athletics. Tesreau may do so, for he is a spit ball pitcher, and we have no first-class spitters in the league since Walsh had to quit.

The Athletics are a better all-round team at present than they were in 1911 when they last met the Giants.

Train Really Needed.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "The Star says a movement is on foot in Wilmington to secure a new train on the Seaboard to connect at Hamlet with the through Seaboard train to the north. That would be good. But what is really the need is a local train to connect with the Charlotte train to and from Raleigh. That would give a splendid passenger service between Charlotte and Wilmington, something the people have been dreaming of since the days of the old Carolina Central."

Teachers' Meeting Saturday.

The first meeting of the rural teachers of the county will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Court House. The schools opened the 15th, and Supt. Catlett states that there has been a fine enrollment, and that all the schools are doing good work. An interesting programme has been prepared for Saturday's meeting and a special feature of interest will be the reports of the teachers, touching on the general phases of the work they are doing.

MR. JACOBI'S STRONG PLEA.

Was Largely Instrumental in Getting Adverse Report.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—Marcus Jacobi, of Wilmington, today was one of the speakers in opposition to the Constitutional amendment proposed as to reading the Bible in public schools.

Mr. Jacobi declared his zeal for and active service in secret orders, including that of being the head of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage at Goldsboro, and his belief in one All-powerful God who has the power to make the whole people of one faith if He chose. But in the light of the diversity of views about the Scriptures and conscience, he pleaded for the Constitution to remain unchanged as to this matter.

Time was called in the midst of his spirited talk, but there was a general demand for him to continue.

He made a deep impression that went far toward killing the proposal in committee. Both Senate and House committees will report the amendment adversely.

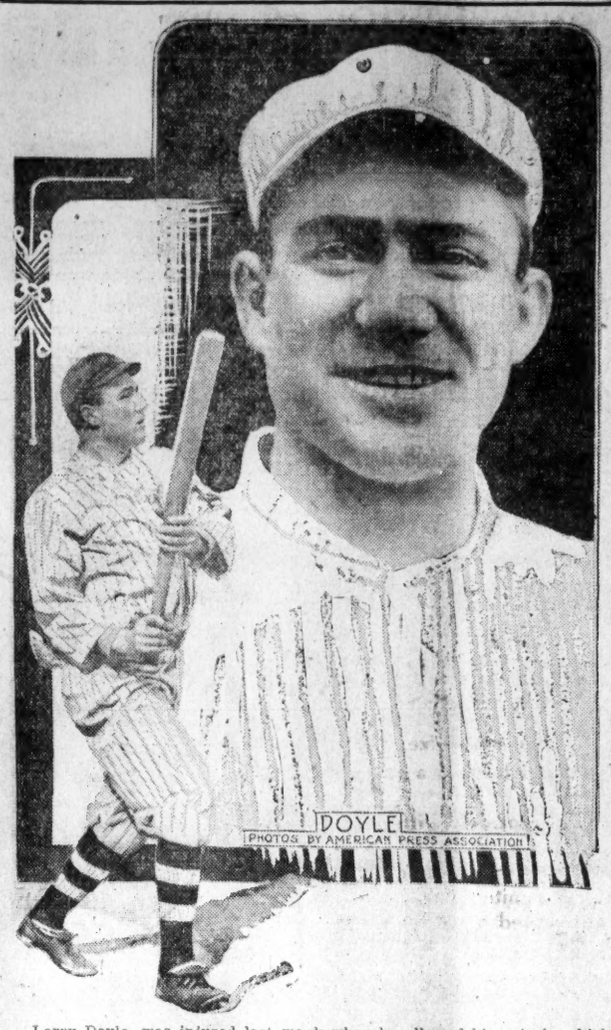
JOY RIDER OUT OF THE GAME



Larry Doyle, was injured last week when he allowed his auto in which he was taking a joy ride, attempt a tree climbing stunt. His physician is doubtful whether he will be able to take his place in the first big game a week from today or not.

FIRST GAME, OCTOBER 7TH. GIANTS 2; ATHLETICS 1

Future dope is based upon one of two things—past performance or a guess. As we have no desire to launch a guess at a game which is the last word in guessing, we turn to the other for what there might be of inspiration in looking this brief week ahead, and we lamp the box score of the first game played between Giants and Athletics two years ago.

In this next series almost the same clubs are supposed to meet. Mathewson and Bender pitched that battle, and it is our belief that Mathewson and Bender will start the jubilee again. They are at least what are known as the logical candidates for the job—the ones upon whom McGraw and Mack look for the bulk of their work. The two well known leaders may cross us here, but we are speaking of dope here, not facts.

The Changes.

But despite the promised meeting of Matty, the Mighty, and Bender, the Cool, there are other changes of note. The man who drove Frank Baker over for the first and only Athletic run was Harry Davis. This series finds him on the bench, with McInnis holding down the job. Score one against the Athletic dope.

The man who drove Meyers home for the winning run established by the Giants was Josh Devore. He, too, has passed, with George Burns in his place in left. Score one against Giant dope. Burns supplants Devore in left for the Giants and Shafer sits in for Herzog at third. These, we figure, will be the only changes in the Giant line-up for the opening battle from 1911 to 1913.

There are more shifts ahead in the Mackian array. In the outfield only Rube Oldring remains. A. Murphy still keeps guard in right, but his name is Eddie in place of Dan, while Briscoe Lord has given way to Amos Strunck. From the infield, McInnis works for Davis, and it is more than likely that Schang will operate for Thomas back of the mask and the mitt. So while the Giants will push seven of their 1911 squad into the battle, the Mackmen will likely use but five from those who faded away before Mathewson in the first contest.

Giant Changes.

How will these sifts work for the Giants? George Burns is a batter ball player and a steadier one than Josh Devore through the run of 154 games. Herzog is a fine world series type, though he was far better in 1911 than in 1912. So it is doubtless whether the Giants will suffer by their changes, various opinions to the contrary.

On the Mackmen.

By adding Eddie Murphy and Strunck to his outfield, Mack has failed to increase his batting strength one iota—if anything it has been decreased. He has, though, tacked on a little additional speed. McInnis, a good batter, will have to travel with considerable speed to do better work than Harry Davis did. Score two against Athletic dope.

Mathewson and Bender.

We next come to the proposition of Mathewson vs. Bender. In that first 1911 battle both were at their best. The Giants say they never faced such speed as the wily Indian pushed above and below their bats, and Bender has said that he had as much smoke that day as ever in his life. He fanned eleven and held the Giants to five hits, and it was only when little Devore reached out and smacked one that whirred high and wide that the battle went against him.

Although Matty pitched one of his greatest games that day, he has pitched better games since. Both pitchers were at their top stride then, but with the present season's record of the respective twirlers, most any one would undoubtedly give the edge to Mathewson. In fact, he leads in percentage of games won and lost, but by a matter of only 14 points.

Again, seven of the Giant batters, who will face the Big Chief, have faced him before, and know something, as much as human beings can, know, about his pitching speed, and will be prepared to meet it. On the other hand, only five out of the nine Mackmen have ever been before Christy Mathewson before, and those four new ones are likely to be struck dumb before that wonderful "wind-up" and delivery employed by the peerless one. Again, while Chief Meyers should be on the job to co-operate with Matty, Schang has never seen world series playing, and is not on to the wiles of the Giant batters.

In conclusion, want our dope on the score at the wind-up of the contest of October 7th? It will be a nip and tuck combat—one in which hits will be as sparsely scattered as rose bushes on the desert, and in which one run will look as massive as the seaboard side of Gibraltar. Therefore we will venture: Giants 2; Athletics 1.

THE ETERNAL DOPE.

(By Grantland Rice.)

The dusk comes soon and the game is slow:
The play drifts by in a sluggish flow;
Only a day or two until
The stands are bare and the park is still;
Only a day or two to score
The winning run to a frenzied roar;
The player files through the home-bound gate—
The season ends—but the records wait.

The dusk comes soon whatever the game;
The day is brief on the trail of Fame;
But we loaf along and we look ahead
Till the race is run and the dream is dead;
Until, far back of the winning score,
We find that we come back to bat no more;
We curse the luck and we call it Fate—
The season ends—but the Records wait.

A week more—the world series—a few football reels—magnates gather and adopt schedule—and then—bingo—there we go again into another April start.

Today is yesterday's tomorrow. And the shift is speedy. It seems only a week or two ago since we were comparing Mack and McGraw, Bender and Matty, Marquard and Plank in that 1911 clash. A number of events have occurred since then, but there we are back at the same old stand that faced us in September, 1911. We wouldn't be greatly surprised in September, 1926, to be announcing that "the coming world series clash between Mathewson and Bender should be one of the best they have drawn in 10 or 15 years."

Same Pair.

Comparing these two veterans is getting to be old stuff. Back in 1905, eight years ago, a vast amount of precious space was used up attempting to prove that the Indian was better than Mathewson or that Mathewson had the Mackmen stopped. And 1905 to 1913 is a good bit longer in baseball than it is upon the calendar. For two men to lead two world series charges eight years apart is testimony enough as to where they belong.

Some fan writes in to ask how many games we figure this next series will run. There'll never be a chance to dope out a situation of this sort until Walter Johnson is listed as one of the pitchers. Then the limit can be safely placed at five—which yields him the necessary one day's rest between starting and closing out the debate.

We know beyond any doubt this Fall that 43,935 are eager to sit in on the Big Series for 43,985 so far have applied to us for seats. And there are still ten days to run. If it is ever left to us after this season all succeeding world series will be fought between Vladivostock and Buenos Ayres as we make a midnight dash for Baffin's Bay around the first week in August.

SENATORS STRENGTHEN HOLD AS SECOND PLACE CHAMPS

Johnson Toyed With Athletics in His Thirty-Sixth Victory

YANKS TAKE TWO GAMES

Defeated Boston Red Sox in Both Games of a Double-header—Ray Keating In First Game for Several Weeks.

The Washington Senators almost assured their permanent standing in second place with yesterday's game which they won from the Philadelphia Athletics, on top of Cleveland's shut-out at Chicago Sunday afternoon. Two and a half games' lead will be hard to pick up by the Naps in less than a week.

Walter Johnson hung up his 36th victory of the season by yesterday's game, and may get two more during the week to wind up the season with. The loitering American champions were simply toyed with by the Mighty Johnson, several of the regular men being out of the line-up.

Two more games will conclude the Athletics' final stand at Washington, and it is doubtful if the Athletics will put up much of a fight to win either of the games, while the Naps are contending with contestants for the runner-up positions.

The rejuvenated New York Yankees took both ends of a double-header from the Boston Red Sox yesterday. Ray Keating twirled a whole game for the first time in several weeks and held the visitors safe.

To conclude the American League season, the Athletics have five more games, two with Washington and three with New York. The Senators have the same number, two with the Athletics and three with the Boston Red Sox. Cleveland has five games, two with Detroit and the final three at home with St. Louis.

Johnson's 36th.

Washington, Sept. 29. — Walter Johnson added the 36th victory to his season's string today by defeating the Athletics 1 to 0. Johnson simply toyed with the Philadelphia youngsters. Today was "McBride Day," having been set aside in honor of George McBride, Washington's captain and shortstop. He was presented with a handsome diamond watch fob and a huge basket of flowers by "fans" of Washington. Vice President Marshall made the presentation speech.

CRAZED BY DRUG

talking to Flagman W. C. Bond, both of them being shot down. Claude Freeman, white, waiting for a train, was also shot down dead in his tracks. The negroes then fired into the train terrorizing the passengers and repeatedly fired into a Pullman car that had been left on a siding. They then fled to a cottonseed house near by and exchanged shots with citizens who began pouring in from the countryside. Sheriff Hammett and ex-Sheriff Gillis arrived from a neighboring town in response to messages about 5 o'clock and closing in on the seed house Sheriff Hammett was shot dead and ex-Sheriff Gillis was wounded. Will Jones attempted to run from the seed house to a coal chute near by and was shot dead. Walter Jones was later taken in the seed house where his nerve had utterly failed him. A rope was thrown around his neck and he was swung to a pole and riddled with bullets as the militia came up. The crowd went to the house of the boys where two negroes were found and escaped lynching only upon the insistence of the militia and authorities.

The eleventh victim was a negro shot by the Joneses in their rampage yesterday morning.

Officers here searching for the real cause of the outbreak today worked on the theory that the Jones boys were advised to begin their reign of murder and in their drugged condition readily acquiesced.

Detectives are investigating John Prophet, a negro of Champaign, Ill., who recently came here and was seen with the Jones boys. He with Robert Patten, another negro, is in jail. It is said Prophet organized negro lodges and wielded some influence among the more ignorant negroes here.

Funerals of Sheriff G. B. Hammett, Claude Freeman and Frank Keinsley took place quietly at Fayette today.

SEGREGATE THE RACES

Senator Peterson, of Sampson County, Would Put Whites and Negroes In Separate Squares in the Cities.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—One of the most remarkable bills yet introduced into the special session of the Legislature is that by Senator Peterson, of Sampson county, providing for the segregation of the races. It is designed to apply to the cities and towns of the State only, and the governing bodies of the respective municipalities can adopt the system prescribed at will. The plan is for the municipal authorities to adopt the "segregation districts" plan and set aside specific squares for the colored race, no district to comprise less than all the property included in a square from street to street. The segregation is applicable to places for public gatherings as well as residences. As soon as the town adopts the plan there must be a map prepared showing the distribution of the two races in the town and then the aldermen or commission shall proceed to designate definite districts or squares for the colored and the white races. A preamble to the bill sets out that "Whereas, the preservation of the public morals, public health and public order, in the cities and towns of this State is endangered by the residence of white and colored people in proximity to one another, therefore these provisions be enacted." The bill is in the hands of the Senate Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns, and Senator Peterson insists that he has it well within the limitations of the State Constitution, being made up of the best from a number of acts in operation in other parts of the country, including the Baltimore and the Atlanta acts.

Pardon for Woman.

Kate Sanders, a Buncombe county woman, serving 15 years' sentence in the State's prison on the charge of killing her infant, receives a pardon from Governor Craig after eight years' service. This action is taken on recommendation of the judge and solicitor of the court in which she was convicted and sentenced, the trial judge representing to the Governor that adjourned in which the woman was sentenced he felt that he had been too severe with her and that he feels now that after eight years' service she is entitled to a pardon.

A charter was issued today for the Carr Lumber Co., of Pisgah Forest, Transylvania county, capital $25,000 authorized and $2,500 subscribed by Louis Carr and others for general lumbering business, construction of flumes and railways to handle the timber.

It is stated by the contractors that it will require more than a year yet to complete the enlarged and remodeled government building here on which more than $250,000 is being expended. November 1st, 1914, is the time limit for the completion of the building. The work began in the early Summer. It is estimated that when completed the building will be ample for Raleigh for many years to come and will be a much handsomer building.

Against Institutional Churches.

Rev. Whitfield Cheatham, of Washington State, in a sermon here Sunday before the congregation of the Church of the Good Shepherd, on "The Prodigal," took the position that the modern institutional church is a desperate means grown out of desperate conditions for church work and should not be resorted to, save when conditions are really desperate. He is not opposed to the institutional church but regards it as an undesirable, if at times, necessary departure from the regular channels of church work. He pronounced it a later day feudalism in which there is a self-confessed superiority on the one hand and a self-confessed inferiority on the other hand that is altogether unAmerican. He declared that the little chapel in the workmen's districts is not a solution of the church problem of the day and that there are hosts of "prodigals" among church memberships and among men of high standing and social influence who need to be drawn back into the church worship and soul-satisfying influences that are inspired and dispensed by lovely church edifices such as the Church of the Good Shepherd is just completing, and the inspiring services prescribed by the church for worship.

He wanted it understood that he is not opposed to institutional churches but warned that they have an undesirable tendency and such methods should be resorted to only where conditions cry out for desperate means for reclamation.

COTTON MOVING AT DUNN.

Harnett People Greatly Interested in Good Roads Undertakings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., Sept. 29.—Cotton has begun to move in a lively manner, and the high prices are putting it on the market as soon as it can be picked out. Dunn claims the lead in the amount of cotton marketed on any one local market in the State. To date this year over 2,500 bales have been sold, counting the cotton year as beginning September 1st. Last year 15,716 bales were sold.

The question of a tobacco warehouse for Dunn is being agitated and it is hoped that immediate steps will be taken to give the farmers in and around here who make the weed a market nearer home.

Harnett citizens are very much interested in this session of the Legislature, as there will be several matters of local importance to come up as well as the freight rate question. Mr. E. F. Young joined the "progressives" at the regular session and passed several important local bills, and he will be called on to help the county along in her march of progress. Stock law has become a live issue in Harnett, and it is hoped that a bill can be passed putting the western side of Cape Fear river under stock law. The law applying to the eastern side of the river will go into effevt next March and will leave only a small portion of the county in the back woods.

The question of good roads has become a vital topic to Harnett, and in the near future meetings will be called in the different communities to raise funds to take advantage of the proposition made by the county commissioners to loan or furnish money where the citizenship would put up a corresponding amount by private subscription.

Meeting of Superintendents.

Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, has received a letter from Dr. J. Y. Joyner notifying him of a meeting of the county superintendents of the southeastern district of the State which will be held in Kinston October 8th-10th. Matters of general interest to the superintendents will be discussed, the sessions being entirely informal. Supt. Catlett will attend the meeting.

CHALLENGES AN EVANGELIST

Commissioner Foushee Replies to Prison Reformer Crabtree at Greensboro—Taylor Murder —Pocketbook Picked.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 29.—A mild sensation was created at the Church of the Covenant, Presbyterian, here last night when Commissioner of Public Works J. Giles Foushee, after listening to strictures by a visiting minister upon the way convicts were kept, arose at the end of the service and challenged the minister's statements.

The preacher who passed the strictures upon the city's methods was Rev. George W. Crabtree, a prison evangelist and prison reform worker of the Southern Presbyterian Church. He had made practically the same speech here twice before in the last ten days and last night he spoke at the Church of the Covenant, of which Mr. Foushee, member of the city board of commissioners, is a member.

Mr. Crabtree spoke last night of conditions throughout the country in prisons generally, then of the State prisons and came down finally to those of Guilford county and Greensboro. He went after the county work house with gloves off. Turning to the prison where men are kept who are worked on the streets, Mr. Crabtree said the barracks were an old pest house, wherein 35 men were jammed together at night like sardines, two in a bunk, with one's feet in another's face and the other's feet in the face of the first one. He declared it was unsanitary and a disgrace to the city. To this he added that the officers were stealing from the convicts the five days of time for good behavior the law allows them.

When he had finished and sat down Commissioner Foushee arose and said he could not allow such misstatements and contortions of the facts as had been stated to go unchallenged. He declared the house used for the men to sleep in was not a pest house, but a large room 40x50 feet, where men sleep in bunks of the regulation size. That it is well kept, two men being left at the place each day to clean up the premises. The beds are aired each day and new straw put in them every month. A separate wash room is provided and all convicts are required to bathe every day. He said the men were not worked overtime nor robbed of the time allowed by law for good behavior. The commissioner's remarks included a number of other statements in defense of the city and his administration and were at times spicy and pointed.

When he had finished both he and Mr. Crabtree invited members of the church to visit the place and see for themselves the conditions. Mr. Crabtree said he was like the Indian, "I have spoken."

Five days of investigation into the mysterious death of J. H. Taylor, a merchant, who was killed in his storeroom where he slept, have failed to throw any light on the mysterious murder of last Tuesday night. The officers are still of the opinion that the man was killed by some burglar who entered the store for the purpose of theft without knowing that Mr. Taylor slept in the place. Beyond this, there is not a single clue that points to the identity of the murderer.

Mr. B. F. Peterson, of Spartanburg, S. C., had his pocketbook taken from his pocket last night about 11 o'clock as he was boarding a train for Richmond, Va., where he was going to attend a photographer's convention. After the incident he decided to return home. Mr. Peterson was going up the car steps when he felt somebody touch his hip, but thought nothing of it at the time. However, it did attract his attention sufficiently to cause him to feel for his pocketbook when he got on the train. He found it gone, but the robber had had time to get away. He had the purse out when he bought a ticket a few minutes before. It contained about $40 in money.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT TAYLOR.

Services From Residence of Parents Sunday Afternoon at 4 O'clock.

The funeral of Robert French Taylor, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan Taylor, whose death occurred Friday night, was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of his parents, No. 14 North Seventh street, conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. The services were attended by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. The affection and love in which the young man was held was shown by the many beautiful floral tributes. A quartette consisting of Miss Margaret Nash, Mrs. Julian Taylor and Messrs. Chas. Dushan and George Haskitt, sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Just as I Am Without One Plea." The interment was at Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. W. M. Parsley, Edward M. Hardin, John Dennen Corbett, Heiskell Gouverneur, Ferdinand Duls, George Clark, Louis Cotchett and Julian Morton.

—Councilman W. F. Jones left this morning on the 3:40 northbound train for Greensboro where he was called on business. He will be away for several days.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders, and postal money orders, for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to, THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

THE CAPE FEAR CANAL.

The Charlotte Observer always has had a keen appreciation of the great Cape Fear ocean gateway, to which the State should look with ever increasing recognition of its importance to all portions of the Commonwealth. Referring to the present project of canalizing the upper Cape Fear from Wilmington to Fayetteville, about 110 miles by water, The Observer says:

"Nothing that might be called the renaissance in water transportation, the New York Post cites as an instance that 'Chattanooga is completing a lock dam in preparation for a packet line to New Orleans; that Birmingham is building a canal to the Warrior river, and that Dallas is improving the Trinity river to ship freight 550 miles to the Gulf.' It might have added that the Cape Fear river is being converted into a ship canal between Wilmington and Fayetteville, and that when this work is completed, ocean vessels will be able to come further inland in North Carolina than in any other State. It will not be a line of packets, but of steam and sail from the ocean paths converging at Southport. The Cape Fear canal is going to play a revolutionary part in the transportation system of North Carolina in the course of a very few years. This project, with the inland waterway from upper Currituck to lower Carteret and eventually to lower Brunswick, places North Carolina considerably in the lead of Southern States in waterway development."

The canalization of the Cape Fear proper will be done between King's Bluff, Bladen county, and Fayetteville, since an eight foot channel already extends 39 miles above Wilmington. From King's Bluff to Wilmington it is only a matter of dredging it to secure even a greater depth than that called for all the way to Fayetteville—an eight foot channel at mean low water, that is to be secured by locks and dams now under construction by the government. As a matter of fact, ocean steamships can go many miles above Wilmiigton, and those who take the trouble to look from the windows of the trains crossing at the Navassa guano factory, five miles above this city, can see steamships that bring cargoes for that factory from European and South American ports. Ocean steamers also discharge their cargoes at the factories on the Northeast river two miles above Wilmington, while ocean schooners tow 25 miles up the Northeast to take on cargoes of lumber and shingles near Rocky Point, in Pender county.

Few people realize the meaning and importance of the eight-foot channel to the wharves at Fayetteville. It will not only make an easier channel and quicker trips for the end-wheel steamers now plying on the river, but it will mean a passage for propeller boats of light draft that may tow barges of large tonnage from New York and other ports. The possibilities for Fayetteville as an interior distributing point are only limited to the extent to which that upper Cape Fear port may utilize its opportunity for becoming a water distributing point for a large territory that should get the benefit, unless the State of North Carolina permits its waterways to be handicapped by the railroads.

Of course, when the Intra-Coastal Waterway is completed, as it will be, it will a thousand-fold magnify the importance of Fayetteville's eight-foot channel. All these waterway improvements mean a greater port at Wilmington, for this is the State's big ocean depot on the Cape Fear waterway—a priceless boon to North Carolina, if she could only realize it.

The United States is doing its best, under the present projects, to magnify the importance and increase the utility of the Cape Fear ocean gateway for the benefit of the whole State. It is opening a deep channel all the way from the bar to Fayetteville, about 140 miles into the interior of North Carolina. Dredging is being pushed on the ocean channel from Wilmington to the bar, and already Wilmington holds the record for big cargoes that sail from the wharves of South Atlantic ports to the ports of the world.

We would like to see North Carolina's eyes get as big as the moon over her opportunity to get the most out of the great Cape Fear water system. The State can get a 40-foot bar and all the channel she wants by deciding that she needs it and is going to have it. If North Carolina realizes it she will scout all propositions to delay the day that she will have a port that will draw commerce from other States, instead of shipping her own products through the ports of other States, just as is being done at this time, and is likely to continue if the North Carolina Legislature consents to it.

BIG QUESTION OF EMPLOYMENT.

Wilmington should at once begin a campaign to take care of her idle population and the newcomers who are attracted here by the city's growth and prosperity. Daily we meet men and women wh are seeking employment, and if Wilmington expects to hold her population and gain more the next move for the city to undertake is clearly along industrial lines.

Wilmington has had her day of suburban development and along with it a healthy increase of real estate values in the city. While values are steady and there is no siyn of a reaction along any line, it is realized that the thing to be done now is to hold our own and develop some along other lines. The way to do that is to begin in earnest some definite plan for making this a manufacturing city. We need not wait for outside capital to do what we ought to do ourselves, for those cities which have become manufacturing centers haven't become so as a result of invitations to others but upon the initiative of their own enterprising and public-spirited business men.

If we make a study of the industrial adaptibilities of Wilmington we will begin to see new opportunities for capital, and once we set about upon some definite enterprise, investors can be found at home as well as attracted from abroad. It is all right to invite the other fellow but not a good idea to expect him to come till we show him what we are doing with our own opportunities.

In order to see opportunities we have to look for them, and if we are not doing that we cannot expect opportunities to be looking for us. The possibilities for making Wilmington an industrial center are growing daily and as the Panama canal will be open for passage in a couple of months and will be thrown open to traffic in the next twelve months, the possibilities for industrial enterprises will be a hundred fold greater than they are today. With good progress being made on a 30-foot channel from Wilmington out to sea, and both sides of the channel skirted by railroads, there will be no end of factory sites on both sides of the harbor. Thus, large mandfacturing enterprises can secure both water and rail transportation for raw materials and finished products. A look over the entire South Atlantic coast will not reveal a location so ideal for manufacturing for export as well as for interior distribution.

With all that, a belt railway encircles the entire city, taking in every wharf on the water front. As if to flaunt the manufacturing adaptibilities of Wilmington in our very faces, the belt line affords factory sites inside the city, along the water front, and in the suburbs where it circles around the city outside the city tax limits. We should recognize in the belt line the opportunity of locating industries that can have the choice of paying the higher city tax or paying the very nominal county tax, all on probably the lowest property assessment to be found in the State. We don't believe there is another city on the map that can hold Wilmington a candle so far as its industrial adaptibilities go and its double means of water and rail distribution are concerned.

The railroad lines extending into the coal fields are waiting for industrial and commercial development to create a demand for coal so they can do some business. A magnificent climate in Winter and Summer augments Wilmington's adaptibilities, while the growing and prosperous South offers a wide field for distribution and an unlimited source of supplies in the way of raw materials.

What are we going to do with our matchless possibilities and our unrivalled resources? We ought to answer that question by getting busy right away. Don't let it be said that we do not know what to do with advantages that other cities would give millions to possess.

MAY CLEAR THE ATMOSPHERE.

Even with the recommendation of Governor Craig and the State Corporation Commission, based upon their interpretation that the rate compromise offered by the railroads is fair to the State, the Legislature seems to be wanting a little more light on the situation. We judge so from this observation by the Raleigh Times:

"Although the Corporation Commission and Governor Craig, who are willing to be held responsible for settling the freight rate controversy as regards certain sections, did not seem to find any "ambiguities" in the offer of the carriers, the House Friday acted wisely in authorizing Representative E. J. Justice to confer with a representative of the carriers to determine for himself what the offer really means. The members of the House should feel relieved if Mr. Justice reports back to them Monday that the offer is what it says it is on its face. As interpreted by the commission of which Mr. Justice is chairman, the proposition was rather vague and ambiguous, but that may be because the commission did not consider the amended report. So there is no harm in letting Mr. Justice have a conference with the carriers."

Of course, Mr. Justice ought to know a great deal about rates by this time, but in conferring with the representative of the carriers, he will hear more of their side of it. Mr. Justice however, already is favorably disposed towards the tendered compromise, so that he and a railroad representative might easily come to the same conclusion. The railroad committee of the Legislature might assist Mr. Justice very materially, and when they hear the railroad side of it they should also give a hearing to those who may be able to point out some of the ambiguities and inadequacies of the proposed compromise. We presume that will be done, anyhow, before the Legislature finally acts.

THE REPUBLICANS ARE DEFIANT.

It seems that New York Republicans are rather defiant towards Colonel Roosevelt and are very much disposed to take issue with him about his apparently irreconciliable attitude towards the old party that made him President. He once said he was "done with the Republicau party forever." He has said it was as dead as a door nail. He declared it was a "decadent and corrupt organization," and that if there is to be any fusion with the Progressives the Republicans would have to adopt all the Progressive principles.

The ex-President even went so far as to declare that if the Republicans reject the Progressive demand for the recall of judges, he will "never again enter into fellowship with them. Nevertheless, the Republican State Convention of New York met in Albany last week and adopted a plank that makes the Republican platform say that the recall of judges would undermine the fundamental institutions of American independence. Senator Root and President Schuman, of Cornell University, dominated the Republican convention and it let Colonel Roosevelt know that it was in no way beholden to him.

There has been some fun, as usual, in the very serious rate matter. An A. C. L. agent in some town or other recently put up a howl because a package on which the railroad charges amounted to 15 cents, was assessed 25 cents by a drayman who hauled it about as many yards as the railroad hauled it miles; and the agent wanted the affair investigated, alleging it a gross discrimination. Maj. John D. Shaw, one of the foremost railroad lawyers in the State, had an automobile shipped to him at Rockingham from Detroit, says the Charlotte Observer, and the charges were $45. After touring the mountains this Summer, he shipped it from Asheville to Rockingham and it cost him $75. "Just what Major Shaw's views on the subject of the railroads and freight rates apropos the foregoing may be interesting," opines the Observer. We would be interested ourself to know what the Major thinks.

We must be united if we expect to pull for Wilmington.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Wilmington Star has just celebrated its 46th birthday. If appeaance it still looks like a colt.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Wilmington Star is 46 years old, but 46 years is nothing in the life of a star. May it live to be a thousand.—Greensboro News.

And now a shipment of 7,300 tons of corn has been received from Buenos Ayres. It looks as if Argentine has taken a contract to feed the United States.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

If the proposition of the railroads grants less than we think is coming to us we should accept it, if at all, with the understanding that this is not a permanent settlement of the matter.—Durham Herald.

Harvey R. Looney, under sentence of death for the murder of a constable in Craig county, has been taken to Lynchburg, where he will be examined for insanity. At last the great mystery of "who's looney now" is to be solved.—Fredericksburg Journal.

Another of those red brick buildings, towering five or six stories, is going up in the tobacco manufacturing district of Winston-Salem. It is being built by the R. J. Reynolds Company, and as yet Winston-Salem is not exactly sure of its purpose. The Observer, however, may venture a guess. While in the tobacco town a few days ago, it was presented with a small paper package, artistically finished in gilt and print, and sealed with a revenue stamp indicating that it contained 10 "Reyno Cigarettes" The package indicates that the Reynolds have decided to enter the field of cigarette manufacture. They have tried out the Reyno brand, have found that it will do no damage to their reputation as standard manufacturers, and, as in the case of the Prince Albert brand of smoking tobacco which added to their prestige, will proceed to manufacture on a scale of world-wide supply. That is probably the explanation of the vast factory building now taking its place in Winston-Salem's constantly expanding industrial district. The Reynolds are making this cigarette for those who prefer smoking American grown to imported tobacco. This new invasion of the tobacco world will no doubt soon be attracting the attention of the country.—Charlotte Observer.

People in the eastern half of North Carolina have been so much in the habit of eating the scuppernong grape that they have not thought of it as anything out of the ordinary. The United States Agricultural Department takes a very different view, however, and sees tremendous possibilities in this grape, which, of all others, is most free from diseases and insect pests. Tests of this grape are being conducted at one of the State farms in Duplin county, and at the A. & M. College here, and now the United States has sent three experts to Raleigh, who will devote themselves to a most complete study of the scuppernong. In other words, Uncle Sam will inform the people of this State of something they have not up to this time realized: This being that as the scuppernong in its present state was developed from the wild muscadine or bullace, just so it can be developed very much further and made a shipping grape. This done, and it will be done, there will be opened a new source of revenue for people in the West and North who have been here and eaten this grape, forever after singing its praise.—Raleigh Times. And one of the finest places to raise the scuppernong is right here in Craven and adjoining counties. The soil is admirably adapted to its growth, and more of them should be raised than are. Fortunes oculd be made by growing the scuppernong, if gone at in the right way. To show that this is the ideal place to raise them, it need only be mentioned that they originated near here.—Newbern Journal.

A FREE RANGER.

To the Editor of The Star:

It is seldom that I write for publication because I think that there are too many small brains already on exhibition. But I can't restrain myself from saying something when I see such unreasonable statements as those made in an article in The Morning Star of the 20th inst., headed "State-wide Stock Law Necessity for Good of State." The writer says it has been shown clearly "when" (I guess he means where) we have the no-fence law in this State we have good farms, good farmers, good stock and intelligent and progressive people. Where we do not have it, we have just the reverse. Well, he adds, "in most cases," but that addition is a poor apology for the insult to the people of our good and grand old North State.

North Carolina has produced as many brainy, good and brave men as any other section of the world. Many of those hailing from New Hanover county, which Pender is proud to call mother, and they, too, were at the front before the stock law ever touched her brow with the blighting kiss of a Judas. Next, the writer of that article says that no man can cite a case where anyone sells or ships milk or butter from a territory where they do not have the stock law, and if they have cows, they are usually so poor they can hardly raise their calves, much less give milk. Now, when a free range ignoramus reads this gentleman's intelligence, he just feels like saying: "Oh, our friend is not a farmer, nor has he traveled in the country; unless, however, he might have gone through New Hanover county to the seashore. He certainly has not been up in our Burgaw section where we milk without chalk and butter that none has never had a chance of adulterating. You just think of that, brother; come out of your counting room, knock the dust from your eyebrows, and we will take you over our savannahs, and show you at a glance over a hundred nice fat cattle that would excite your salivary glands to look at. Yes, and good farms and good farmers who raise milk, butter, beef and pork for sale. If you doubt it, take a little vacation, a little recreation and a lot of information. I am a one-horse farmer and a tenant too. I have sold this Fall 25 head of hogs and have five brood sows and eight fine porkers for my own use. Now I challenge our stock law advocate to find a one-horse tenant in the county of New Hanover that can say as much. I also have six head of nice cattle. Ah, but he says that we free-range people intimidate our representatives — "legislators." That seems to be a very low estimate to put on the custodians of our liberties? He further states that they will be appealed to again at the present extra session to pass a State-wide stock law, and if they don't do it, the stock law people at the next county conventions will see that men are nominated who will pass a State-wide stock law. Well, that may be done. But people do not always stick to the nominee and it takes votes to elect.

Last, but not least, the unreasonable thing in his article was the comparison of his free range and stock law neighbors. He says that a reliable man told him that he (the reliable man) owned 2,000 acres of land and 60 or 70 head of cattle, but could get no milk without going to his neighbor who owned 10 acres of land and one old cow. He did not say that she was tied with a string, but I will go him a glass of good milk that she was. But be that as it may, if Mr. Reliable can't do better than that, he had better sell out to some of our homeless boys on a credit and move over the line to the stock law territory, thereby settling a few North Carolinians instead of holding his land for immigrants.

Now, we free rangers have no objection to our stock law neighbors fencing their stock and if it is so necessary to good stock raising, why don't they do it? Or shut up and give us a rest. W. E. COWAN.

THE STAR'S NEW HOME.

Rock Hill Herald: "The Wilmington Star is forty-six years old, being North Carolina's oldest daily newspaper. The Star was founded by Major W. H. Bernard, long one of the foremost journalists of the Old North State, who now, if we are not mistaken, resides in the sunny Land of Flowers."

Red Springs Citizen: "The Wilmington Star celebrated its forty-sixth anniversary Tuesday with the announcement that it had bought a new home at a cost of $15,000. The Star is one of the best papers in the State and it is with pleasure we note its prosperity.

Webster's Weekly: "The Wilmington Star, North Carolina's oldest daily newspaper, has reached its forty-sixth mile post. The Star was never brighter, newsier or more prosperous than now, and we wish it continued success.

THE DELGADO MEETING.

To the Editor of The Star:

Inasmuch as the preachers at the meeting here were indicted on the charge of nuisance, it is only fair to state that as a result of the meeting conducted by them, 20 people professed religion and joined the Primitive Baptist church. This doesn't look like a "nuisance" to me. I don't know how it may appear to others. If a man can be saved from the devil, it doesn't make much difference how you go about it. J. A. HOLLEMAN.

THIRTY YEARS ECZEMA.

Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

Mr. Joseph R. Williams, of Alliance, Ohio, says: "I recommended Saxo Salve, in a case of eczema of thirty years' standing, and after its use not a trace of the disease was left. It also cured a bad case of eczema of the scalp, where the man had scratched so much it had become calloused and cracked open. It is all healed up now. I also find that one application does away with Ringworm. I keep a tube on my work stand, and use it for all skin troubles I come across. I have had a good deal to do with skin troubles for the past forty years, but Saxo Salve beats anything I ever saw."

Saxo Salve is wonderfully healing in all kinds of skin diseases. We cheerfully give back your money if it fails to benefit.—Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

When It Comes to Using

ICE

without doubt offers in all respects the best Ice to be had in this market.

The water used is drawn from deep wells and is clear, pure and cold; it is distilled and double filtered, then reboiled making it absolutely pure.

It is then frozen at a very low temperature making Ice of the highest sanitary quality.

The best authorities on analytical chemistry prove our claim that no purer Ice than ours can be made.

Our Ice cuts clear and sure thus avoiding the waste in using so noticeable in other makes of Ice; therefore, careful and discriminating consumers will make no mistake in calling for our Ice on the grounds of purity, economy and general satisfaction.

Our delivery service is of the highest efficiency, combining certainty with celerity—early and late, and all the time on the job.

Our increasing sales prove in the most conclusive manner that we are serving the public with the real stuff.

STEAMER BREAKS IN TWO

The City of Fayetteville Sinks With Cargo of Cotton at Champion Compress Dock—Crew's Narrow Escape.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning the steamer City of Fayetteville sank in the slip at the foot of Red Cross street, at the Champion Compress, where she docked at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and from the looks of the wreck, it would seem that the steel hull has broken in two.

The boat was loaded with 236 bales of cotton for Alexander Sprunt & Son, 135 of which were gotten out yesterday, very little damaged, but Agent S. M. King, of the Merchants & Farmers' Steamboat Company, which owns the vessel, was of the opinion last night that the remainder, which is entirely submerged, will prove almost a total loss. Messrs. Sprunt carried insurance on the cotton, but the steamboat company has no marine insurance, being unable to get it on the river. They carry fire insurance.

Their loss will approximate $15,000 if it proves that the hull has broken in two, that being the figure at which "the City" was valued. She was built in 1904, is 125 feet in length and has a draft of 26 inches. The manager of the company is Mr. S. P. McNair, and a number of local business men hold stock in the concern.

Engineer J. F. Creel and four of the crew were asleep on the boat when they were awakened by her settling, and they had to hurry to get out of her. The engineer had his small son with him and he said he got the lad out by catching hold of his leg and throwing him bodily to the wharf. They had gone over the boat sometime before and found nothing wrong.

It may be that a hole was punched in the bottom by a pile or that there is a shoal at the mouth of the slip, and that when the tide went out—it was extremely low yesterday morning—the weight of the machinery caused the stern to settle, breaking the boat amidships.

The work of raising the boat will go right along and the officials of the company hope that the damage may not be so serious that she cannot be repaired. She has made only two trips during the Summer, bringing cotton this month. Many visited the wreck yesterday and watched the salvage of the cotton going on.

NEW PASSENGER AGENT.

Mr. H. E. Pleasants Assumes Duties as T. P. A. for Seaboard.

Mr. H. E. Pleasants, of Norfolk, Va., has been appointed traveling passenger agent for the Seaboard Air Line with headquarters in Wilmington, succeeding Mr. Max Levin, of Raleigh, who has been acting as passenger agent here temporarily. Mr. Pleasants arrived yesterday, and has already entered upon his duties. Mr. Levin will remain here a few days until Mr. Pleasants gets acquainted with the details of his new position.

The appointment is a promotion for Mr. Pleasants, who has been in the general offices of the Seaboard at Norfolk, Va., for the past seven years. He is a native of Aberdeen in this State, and is a young man who has won his spurs by hard work and the display of natural aptitude for railroad work. While he will travel throughout the territory covered by this division, o which Mr. E. E. Hunter is in charge, he will also spend considerable time in the office here.

He will devote his time to looking after the passenger traffic of the division. Rates to all points on Seaboard and other roads are on file at the offices in The Orton Hotel, and full information can be had concerning any route that one may wish to take. For the present only mileage books will be sold here, but later a full line of tickets will be added. Any information that the public may wish to learn about traveling by rail can be had.

Mr. Levin, who has been traveling passenger agent for the Seaboard with headquarters at Raleigh, for the past eight years, will return to Raleigh and take up the duties which he gave up temporarily. He has been here for the past month, and had also visited Wilmington frequently before, and has many friends here. While Wilmington will not in the future be in the territory covered by him, he expects to return occasionally, and renew old acquaintances.

A ladies' dining room will be operated upstairs, and the entire hotel refurnished and improved. The work will be completed by the first of November and until then the guests will be taken care of as usual. The Pittman barber shop moved yesterday to the new hotel in the old Y. M. C. A. building.

The Murchison's Capital.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "The Murchison National Bank of Wilmington, for a long time one of the strongest financial institutions in the South, and which recently absorbed the Southern National Bank, has decided to increase its capital stock to $1,000,000. To do this, the Murchison has to add only $175,000 to its present stock. Furthermore, the Murchison has under contract a new building in which to house all this money and take care of the increased business. Charlotte extends congratulations to Wilmington on its million dollar institution. It is a great bank in a great town."

BOYS' BRIGADE GYMNASIUM

Regular Classes Begin Tomorrow Night—Meet Twice Each Week—Basketball Teams Getting Into Shape.

Wednesday night will witness the opening of the gymnasium classes for young men at the Boys' Brigade and it is believed that a large number of the members will take advantage of the physical training afforded through this department.

The Boys' Brigade has a large number of splendid specimens of physical manhood and many of the younger members are beginning to show the results of regular attendance at the gymnasium. One boy added 13 pounds to his weight during the past month as a result of daily exercise. Others are doing as well and some better.

The class will begin at 8 o'clock and will be conducted twice each week, Wednesday and Saturday. The Junior class will begin Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the class for business men will be conducted every day except Saturday at 1 o'clock.

The basketball teams are getting into good shape for the 1913-14 struggle and it promises to be a great one from all standpoints. Company B will be captained by Harry Register, who piloted the team to such signal success last year. The personnel will be the same. Herman Gerdes will captain Company A team and he will have with him in addition to Fick at center and Kure at guard, Cameron at forward and Henry Gerdes at guard. This team should give a good account of themselves.

Irving, who did such great work with a green team last year, will again be at the head of the Cardinals. He will be supported by King and Snakenburg at guard, Huhn in center and himself and Register, M., at forward. This team is light but fast and they will make all the others hustle to lead them.

The Eagles, tail-enders of last season, will have a complete new line-up this season. They will be piloted by James Applewhite who has secured four young players who will be in the game from start to finish and any team that puts it over on them will be credited with being a good one indeed.

The teams for the Tuesday Night League have not yet been selected but they will be this week. Several of the members of this league of last year have been drafted to the Friday Night League and their places will be filled from the ranks of Company C, all of whom are good players. Both leagues will be stronger this year than ever in the past and some good sport will be witnessed on both nights.

DECLARES GRAVE IS HELL.

Pastor MacPherson Delivers Third Lecture.

The third lecture in a series of four which are being delivered under auspices of the International Bible Students' Association, was given Sunday night in the Grand Theatre by Pastor J. P. MacPherson, of New York. A large number of people attended. The subject of this lecture was "Victory O'er the Grave," and the speaker developed the doctrine that is held by his association that at death man goes back to the dust whence he sprung and remains in the tomb until the general resurrection. He declared that the grave or tomb is what is meant by the derivatives of the English word "hell," and that nothing more. The theory of everlasting punishment was denied, since that which is not mortal in man is part of God, and God would be in the position of subjecting Himself to punishment, were He to damn nine-tenths of the human race forever. He carries each individual who lives and dies, in His memory until the end, when each is recalled and given opportunity to reach that perfect state which Adam occupied before the fall. Resurrection of the body was denied, a new body being granted at the resurrection, etc.

The fourth lecture will be delivered by Pastor Yates, of Hamilton, Canada, October 5th.

PORT PARAGRAPHS.

Several Steamers Arrived Sunday for Cargoes of Cotton—Cutter Back.

Sunday the British steamer Sowell, 2,431 tons, Captain Evans, from Pomaron, Spain, via Norfolk, arrived with cargo of pyrites for the S. A. L. terminal, Mr. H. P. Whyte, agent; and yesterday the British steamer Fitzpatrick, 2,838 tons, Captain Robson, arrived from New York, to Alex. Sprunt & Son, and the British steamer Corby, 2,280 tons, Captain Prince, arrived light from Buenos Ayres, to Alex. Sprunt & Son, for cargo of cotton.

The steamer Cherokee, 1,966 tons, Captain Devereaux, arrived Sunday from New York, bringing mixed cargo and a number of passengers.

The revenue cutter Seminole returned last evening after a cruise to Charleston.

COLORED Y. M. C. A. AUSPICES.

Dr. S. N. Vass, of Raleigh, Delivering Lectures in Wilmington.

Speaking to large audiences Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Stephen's church, to the colored Y. M. C. A., at 3 P. M., and to Central Baptist church at night, Rev. S. N. Vass, a noted colored lecturer, has begun a series of Bible study lectures in the city to which all are cordially invited, special reservations having been made for white persons. Dr. Vass comes to Wilmington under the auspices of the colored Y. M. C. A., Campbell, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and the lectures will continue each afternoon at 3 o'clock, 8 P. M., at St. Stephen's church. The lectures will continue through Friday evening.

HEAVIEST COTTON RECEIPTS.

More Than 7,000 Bales Came in Yesterday—Cotton Steamers Here.

Yesterday's cotton receipts were the heaviest for any day this season, the total being 7,457 bales, against 5,154 bales on the same day last year. This brings the total for the season up to 51,184 bales, against 43,686 bales in 1912.

There had been a much longer lead over last year than this for a number of days, but until yesterday, daily receipts for a week have fallen behind the 1912 figures. Several British cotton steamers are in port loading at the compress of Alex. Sprunt & Son, and the third cargo will go out today or tomorrow.

Ministers' Meeting Yesterday.

A special meeting of the Ministers' Association of Wilmington was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. James' Parish House for the purpose of considering a proposed lecture in Wilmington next Sunday afternoon. It was the opinion of the ministers that it would not be best to have the lecture. The weekly meetings of the association will be resumed next Monday morning.

TAKES NO BACKWARD STEP

Wilmington Chamber of Commerce in Freight Rate Fight to Finish—Stirring Addresses and Some Pointed Resolutions.

The port of Wilmington through its Chamber of Commerce will take no backward step in the freight rate adjustment, standing with the rest of the State for a fair and equitable settlement of the whole question or no settlement at all upon any sort of basis of compromise.

This was the position taken at one of the most largely attended meetings of the Chamber held in a twelvemonth yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the specific purpose of hearing the report of the freight traffic committee and delegates who recently attended the freight rate conferences in Raleigh, general results of which have ben told in the public prints. While nearly all members of the delegation of Wilmington business men who attended the conference were present and told of their impressions of the situation, the main report was made by Acting Chairman J. Gilchrist McCormick, who spoke most earnestly and most convincingly for nearly an hour, going over the whole scope of freight rates in the State and making an impassioned appeal to Wilmington business men to remain true to themselves and to the State.

President M. J. Corbett called the meeting to order and Assistant Secretary Bland kept a record of the proceedings. President Corbett asked Mr. McCormick to make the formal report for the committee and he did so in a manner that bespoke the great interest which he feels in common with every other business man in an ultimate correct solution of the problem. He expressed regret at the absence of Mr. Taylor and hoped to be as fair as he knew how. Yet, he realized the necessity of hewing to the line and letting the chips fall where they might. It was no time for minced words or neatly-turned phrases. He traced rapidly the progress of the entire negotiations and spoke with regret of the rather uncertain status of the Governor and the Corporation Commission. He told of how the carriers through their spokesman at the first conferences had told why this and that was absolutely impossible, yet finally those very things that were declared impossible, the railroads laid down on except the one matter of a rate-basing water point. He showed why very little relief is offered to Eastern Carolina and charged that he could conceive only that this proposition was merely for the purpose of dividing the forces of the State and to put them fighting one another. He referred enthusiastically to the practical unanimity of the State that the proposal of the railroads ought to be rejected. It was no time for side-stepping. This proposition meant more to Wilmington than anything that had developed in a generation. It had been charged that Wilmington was dominated by the Atlantic Coast Line, but Wilmington has convinced the State that such is not the case and that, if anything, this city is entitled to more respect because it has set out to accomplish something even under the great odds. He was glad to let the rest of the State know that New Hanover's Senator and Representative will fight to the finish every move to put the proposition through the Legislature. It was no time for division and Wilmington stood with the Just Freight Association for a fight to the finish. The association was right in its rejection of the proposal and it was equally right in declaring for a separate and distinct public utilities commission.

Mr. McCormick made a profound impression with his splendid presentation of the case of the shippers and was applauded from time to time. Mr. L. E. Hall, who followed Mr. McCormick in his report of the conferences, said that Mr. McCormick if anything was too mild in his statement of real conditions as to the awakening of the State. On this one question North Carolina stands united. The State is beginning to recognize Wilmington not as the port of Wilmington but as the port of the State. He quoted a published interview with Mr. Foreman, of Charlotte, in which he stated that the fight was against the railroads and would never be settled right until it was settled on the basis of water competition. Mr. Hall conceived that for Wilmington to lie down now would be to prove a traitor to the State.

Mr. W. E. Perdew, who was also a member of the delegation at the conference, emphasized all that Mr. McCormick and Mr. Hall had said and expressed the opinion that the entire State was behind the movement to reject the proposal of the roads in spite of the Corporation Commission and the recommendations of the Governor.

Councilman C. C. Loughlin could say that in this matter at least the whole city of Wilmington is behind the Chamber of Commerce and world counsel no backward step. There was no discounting the unity of purpose of the people on this subject.

Asked to add something to what had been said, Col. Walker Taylor said he was very much in the fix of the Governor. He had never shipped a pound of freight and neither had the Governor. However, the Governor had called in the "doctors," men experienced in the freight business, but strange to say that after the "doctors" had diagnosed the case, pronounced it a very serious complication of diseases and prescribed for the trouble, the Governor had thrown the prescription to the winds and recommended a leg massage to equip the State to run the race all over again. The Governor had allowed the enemy to diagnose the case and he, for one, would never take the advice and the prescription of the man he was fighting. The State should respectfully differ with the Governor, not for lack of confidence in him as a man but as a difference of judgment and opinion. He advocated giving all possible support to our Representatives in the Legislature in the fight to have the proposals rejected there.

Mr. R. A. Parsley, a leading member of the freight rate delegation, said that in his opinion that there was not one scintilla of good faith in the course the railroads have pursued all through. They have no idea of ever putting the new schedule of rates into effect. As soon as the new tariffs are filed with the Inter-State Commerce Commission they know that somebody will challenge them and they hope it will be the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. Then they can go to the West and say that the carriers offered the West relief and the East would not let them have it, thus dividing the State upon this all important question which must ultimately be settled by an opening of the three South Atlantic ports—Charleston, Wilmington and Savannah. The whole thing was a hoax from start to finish. The speaker went into a general analysis of rate-making with reference to trunk lines and freights from the West to Atlantic ports and showed why Wilmington and the two other ports named were not enjoying the rates of the rest of the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf ports. If the railroads can tie up North Carolina in the proposed compromise, it will only serve to delay the ultimate opening of these three Southern ports. These ports will be unbottled some day and it is up to North Carolina to lead the procession, he stated.

After similar expressions from others, Mr. Hall introduced the following resolution, which was seconded by Colonel Taylor and unanimously carried:

"Whereas, the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Wilmington recognizes that the Just Freight Rate Association aims at State-wide relief from the exactions of the carriers and it has done a great work in arousing the people of the State in regard to their rights as to the public service corporations of North Carolina, be it

"Resolved: That the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the resolutions rejecting the proposal of the railroads for a settlement of the freight rate question, which was passed in Raleigh, September 24th.

"Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to our Senator and Representative and that they be urged to use all honorable means to defeat the passage of the compromise now before the Legislature.

"Resolved: That a copy of this resolution be sent to President F. N. Tate, of the State Just Freight Rate Association."

After the passage of this resolution with show of much enthusiasm on the part of the upwards of a hundred shippers present, the meeting adjourned subject to call of the president.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Up for Violating Automobile Ordinance—Taxed With Costs.

The police officers have renewed their crusade against those who violate the automobile ordinances of the city with the result that there were a half dozen cases on this charge before the Recorder yesterday. Judgment was suspended in the cases against Messrs. A. G. Ahrens and C. S. Hopkins, charged with operating machines without rear lights. E. L. Taylor and Neill Walton, young white men, had to pay the costs for exceeding the speed limit while running automobiles. B. Spriggs, another young white man, had to pay the costs for running a machine without a rear light. A case against John Harlee, colored, charged with exceeding the speed limit, was continued until today.

A case against Robert Jenkins, colored, charged with keeping an assignation house, was continued until Wednesday. He was required to give bond in the sum of $100. Maggie Crawford, Theresa St. George and Alice Cain, all colored, charged with vagrancy, were found not guilty. Maggie Crawford and Theresa St. George were held in the sum of $25 to appear as State's witnesses in the case of Robert Jenkins.

Judgment was suspended in a case against Charles Bynum, white, charged with being drunk. He said that he came here from Lake City, S. C., Saturday, and that he was sick.

Walter Bell, a white man, was charged with hitting H. Eagles, colored, Saturday night with a rock. Eagles didn't know who hit him. Two negro women testified that Bell threw the rock or brick. Bell said that it was another Walter that threw the rock, and that he was in another place at the time. His story was corroborated by two white men who said that they were with him Saturday night. In view of the conflicting statements the Recorder continued the case until today in order to get other witnesses. Bell was required to give bond in the sum of $100.

Judgment was left open in a case against Alice Wilkins, white, charged with disorderly conduct. It is likely that a new case will be made out charging her with being a nuisance. She has three children which are without anyone to care for them, and an effort will be made to place them in some orphanage. They have been placed in the custody of the Clerk of the Superior Court.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KENDALL.

Services from Fifth Street Methodist Church Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. J. C. Kendall, whose death occurred at her home at Cheraw, S. C., Saturday morning, was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Fifth Street Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The services were attended by many friends. The Acme quartette composed of Messrs. W. R. Dosher, Albert Dosher, W. A. McGirt and W. B. Muse, rendered special music, this being very touching and effective. Following the services at the church the remains were borne tenderly to Bellevue cemetery where interment took place. The grave was covered with the many beautiful floral offerings. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. A. McNorton, R. A. Montgomery, Joe Boylan, D. D. Boylan, J. W. Fleet and W. R. Stewart. Mrs. Kendall is survived by an only sister, Mrs. E. H. Bowdoin, of this city, and by her husband, Mr. J. C. Kendall, who returns to Cheraw today.

Conservation Congress.

The fifth annual Conservation Congress will meet in Washington, D. C., November 18th to 20th, and the chairman of the County Commissioners has been requested to appoint delegates. Last year a number attended the meeting and it is possible that several will go to Washington this year. The congress is fighting for the conservation of the forests and waterways. The fare will be one and three-fifths the regular rate.

You are especially invited to attend our Fall Opening—Wednesday and Thursday, October 1st and 2nd, to criticise as you please, to enjoy, and, we are sure, approve, these chosen examples of the Season's Best Styles.

Your opinion means a great deal to us, because all this new merchandise was selected to please you, and your decision shows whether we have succeeded or not.

We Take Pleasure in Announcing Our Fall Millinery Opening, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1st and 2nd

When we will display our Fall Millinery, Coat Suits and Coats, Dresses and Evening Wraps.

BEAUTIFUL MILLINERY.

Enchanting Hats in Correct Styles.

Polvogt's Millinery stands always at the head. We probably have a finer equipped department than any establishment to be found in a city five times the size of Wilmington.

To select a Hat that is absolutely correct, come to Polvogt's. You will find our prices always fair, too.

The New Fall Sweaters

Cool nights, chilly days—for golf, autoing, boating, etc.—call for a Sweater. Ones we are showing are made with the new Byron and Ruff neck collar—in cardinal, blue, oxford, white and black—marked at popular prices.

Muslin Underwear

Very pretty Garments at very little cost. Our Musline Underwear Line is now Complete.

OPENING DISPLAYS OF AUTUMN SUITS AND COATS.

Smart Cossack Coats and Russian Blouse Suits.

The Russian idea dominates the Suit situation, to be sure; but we find many discriminating women like the new Tailored Suits with Waistcoats. How is it with you? Or, if you prefer a Plain Tailored Suits, we have it, and of best workmanship.

A unique display of smart, new and accepted styles for Fall, each embodying an individual expression of exclusiveness. Original Paris Models and an unusual collection of their adaptations by the best known American designers.

We are showing many entirely new variations of style and our exhibit presents a complete description of the tendencies of the new season. You are cordially invited.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. W. E. Lawson, city editor of The Star, left yesterday for Winston-Salem and other points on a week's vacation.

The quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Charities will be held at the offices of the association this morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. H. O. Gregg and sister, Mrs. S. Blake Willsden, of Chicago, Ill., have returned from a pleasant visit of several weeks to Western North Carolina.

Mrs. John Peyton Swain and daughter, Miss Eria Roberts Swain, have gone to Newport, Tenn. After leaving Newport they will spend several weeks in Baltimore, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Skelding will leave tomorrow by automobile for New York, going from this city to Greensboro, and thence along the National Highway. They expect to be away about three weeks.

Sunday's Winston-Salem Journal: "Mrs. G. A. Boozer has returned home from Wilmington, where she has been spending the past three weeks with Mrs. Gertrude Foster, at Wrightsville Beach."

Mr. William Heath, Miss Julia Heath and Mrs. W. H. Morgan and two sons, East and Ray, of Salt Lake City, Utah, have returned home after spending two weeks visiting at the home of Mr. C. A. Jurgensen, No. 115 South Ninth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Earle Scott, of Charlotte, have returned home after visiting for several days Mr. and Mrs. James Owen Reilly. Mr. Scott is commercial agent for the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railroad, with headquarters at Charlotte.

Dr. and Mrs. P. P. Causey returned yesterday from their honeymoon trip, and will spend a week at Mrs. Annie Northrop's cottage at Wrightsville Beach, after which they will make their home at the Carolina Apartments.

Dr. George K. Patterson and wife have gone to Winston-Salem, where they will spend a week or ten days. Dr. Patterson is recovering from an attack of illness and friends will hope for his early restoration to complete health after his brief vacation.

Littleton, N. C., Sept. 29.—The recent opening at Littleton College has been the largest this prosperous and excellent school has had in several years, and indications now point to an unusually large attendance during the present scolastic year.

Postmaster H. McL. Green returned Sunday morning from Norfolk, Va., where last week he attended the annual joint meeting of the postmasters of North Carolina and Virginia. Over his protest he was elected president of the North Carolina Association for the ensuing year. The choice was a wise one.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. E. F. Mallard, of Shallotte, was in the city yesterday.

—Mr. J. C. Wooten, of Kinston, spent yesterday in the city.

—Mr. Howard C. Curtis, of Southport, was among yesterday's visitors.

—Mr. J. B. Seavey, of Alpine, spent yesterday in the city on a business trip.

—Mr. C. J. Meade, of Rocky Mount, was among the guests at The Orton yesterday.

—Mr. D. B. Robinson left Monday morning, for Durham, N. C., where he will enter Trinity Park School.

—Dr. N. A. Thompson and Mr. G. E. Rancke, Jr., of Lumberton, were among the guests at The Orton Sunday.

—Mr. W. E. Mann left yesterday afternoon for Ferguson, S. C., where he expects to be engaged several months with the Santee River Cypress Lumber Company, of that place.

—Dr. F. H. Russell, who has been out of the city several weeks on his vacation, has returned. While he was away he attended surgical clinics of the Mayor brothers, the famous surgeons of Rochester, Minn.

—Many friends of Mr. C. E. Johnson, formerly superintendent of streets, will be delighted to know that he is now able to be out after an illness of several months. He is looking remarkably well despite his long indisposition.

—Mr. W. M. Murrell, traveling salesman for the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, who has formerly had his headquarters in Charlotte, has removed to Wilmington, and will make this headquarters. His territory covers Eastern Carolina.

—Mr. Lon Bolick, of Polk county, was a visitor in the city Sunday, accompanied by his young son. Mr. Bolick is a locomotive engineer for the Southern Railway on the Asheville-Saluda division and is the member from Polk county in the House of Representatives at Raleigh, being probably the first man of his profession to serve in the House.

—Mr. James A. Farley, of this city, has accepted a position with The Star Company as bookkeeper and yesterday began his new duties. Mr. Farley is an expert in his line and until the Southern National Bank was merged into the Murchison National, served as bookkeeper in that institution, going to the Murchison when it took over the Southern, and assisting in consummating the transfer.

Negro Died at Hospital.

Frank Small, the negro who was run over by a shifting engine at Newberlin Saturday morning, died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital Sunday night at 11 o'clock. It is not known where his home was, and it is supposed that he was beating his way on the freight train which left Wilmington early Saturday morning. His left leg was cut entirely off, and his right leg broken. He was brought to the hospital on the passenger train from Florence Saturday morning. The body was interred yesterday afternoon in the Potter's field.

CARD OF THANKS.

On behalf of myself and the family, I desire to convey to the many friends our sincere thanks for assistance rendered, and the many kind expressions of sympathy extended, during our recent bereavement.

J. C. KENDALL.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Council will hold its regular weekly meeting tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. This being the first of the month the city officials will make their reports to the Council.

—Beatrice Pridgen, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Special Officer H. Mack Godwin on a peace warrant sworn out by Sarah Holden, colored. She was recognized for her appearance before Justice Harriss today.

—Ed Hyman, colored, was arrested yesterday by Special Officer H. Mack Godwin on a warrant sworn out by his wife before Justice Harriss, charging him with non-support. He was recognized for his appearance today before Justice Harriss.

The opening dance of the dancing school, conducted by Mrs. P. L. Cantwell and Miss Reba Myers, complimentary to the children of Wilmington, will be given tomorrow afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in Woolvin Hall on Princess street.

—Joe Weathersby, a young white man, was arrested last night by Officer H. R. Smith on a charge of giving cigarettes to Walter Vereen, a white boy under 17 years of age. Weathersby was recognized for his appearance before the Recorder this morning.

—Lou Holmes, a colored woman, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Davis on a warrant charging her with assault on Sol Shain, also colored. She was recognized by Justice Harriss for her appearance this morning for trial.

—Mr. "Tuck" Savage, who was among those on the excursion to Florida last week, returned Sunday, and says that the Florida orange crop is immense this year, the trees being loaded. Mr. Savage, who is with the Tidewater Power Co., will have charge of things at Lumina during the Winter.

—This afternoon the details in the scheme to hold a corn exhibit and a small fair at which other farm products will be displayed, will be worked out by Mr. J. P. Herring, county demonstrator; and Messrs. L. B. Sasser and Geo. H. Hutaff, both of whom have given attractive cash prizes for the best corn grown by farmers' boys.

—Saturday evening Mr. A. B. Skelding, accompanied by Mr. H. deW. Rapalje, brought his naptha launch around from Wrightsville Beach to the city. The trip is about 55 miles and can usually be made in about six and a half hours but Saturday there was a head wind and a choppy sea which made the voyage about an hour longer than that.

CHARGE LOOKED SERIOUS.

Colored Woman and Man Charged With Injury of Child.

Charged with cruelly beating, and on suspicion of having dealt foully with their 12-year-old step-daughter, Rebecca Slater, Officers D. W. Jacobs and Frank George Sunday night, at the home of the negroes, 211 Beatty's alley, between Second and Third and Hanover and Brunswick streets, arrested Sarah Slater and Henry Howard, both colored, who are alleged to have been living as man and wife for several years, though never legally married.

The Slater child, adopted by Sarah Slater when a year and a half old, at Sumter, S. C., disappeared last Wednesday, and had not been seen or heard of since. Sunday, information came through the mail to Chief Williams that the child had been severely beaten Tuesday by her step-mother, and the subsequent disappearance and the fact that since the disappearance the Slater woman and the negro Brown have been in the habit of leaving home early in the evening and not returning until late, gave rise to the suspicion in the mind of Chief Williams' informant that the child had been perhaps severely hurt and hidden away until her wounds healed, or, perhaps that the child had been killed. The officers Sunday night found the man and woman away from home, until nearly midnight, when they returned and said they had been at church. They were locked up at the police station, where the woman engaged in loud lamentations and said the only possible explanation of the child's absence was that her first husband, Henry Slater, a brick mason, living in Columbia, S. C., had slipped into Wilmington and stolen the child.

She said she was as anxious to find the girl as were the police, and pointed to the fact that in Sunday morning's paper she had advertised for information as to the whereabouts of the child.

Neighbors volunteered to testify that the woman habitually beat the girl unmercifully, and said that the Slater woman had before been indicted for cruelly beating her, but had been acquitted.

Chief Williams communicated with the police in Columbia to ascertain if the first husband had taken the girl there, but an investigation by the Columbia police disclosed that such was not the case.

Last night a message came to Justice George Harriss that a girl giving her name as Rebecca Slater, had been found wandering around on the Sound, and had been taken in by a family there. The child will be brought to Wilmington today. Meantime, the woman and man are being held to answer the charge of cruelly beating the child, and for living in illegal relations together.

JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Holy Season Begins Tomorrow Evening—Services in Synagogue.

Rosh Hashanah, or the Jewish New Year, begins tomorrow evening, this marking the beginning according to the tradition of the Jews of the year 5,674. Throughout the world Hebrews will celebrate this anniversary with appropriate exercises in their synagogues. The New Year inaugurates the holy season which ends with the Shemini Atzereth—the Feast of Conclusion—on the evening of October 23rd. Services locally will be held in the Temple of Israel tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, and Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rabbi S. Mendelsohn.

In Reform synagogues Rosh Hashanah is observed from the evening of October 1st until sunset of October 2nd, but among orthodox Jews the holy day does not end until sunset of October 3rd. Rosh Hashanah derives its significance from the fact that it is the introduction of the Day of Atonement which follows ten days later. The essential ceremony of the services on Rosh Hashanah is the blowing of the trumpet according to the injunction in Leviticus 23:24.

The Jewish New Year is the seventh new moon of the Hebrew calendar. In the Biblical age every new moon was regarded as a solemn occasion, and the seventh, the sacred number, was especially so. It became the day of the blowing of the trumpet, thus reminding the Israelites that a new period of time began and that no occasion could be more appropriate for the endeavor for a new life and for reconciliation with God. It is a solemn occasion, though not a mournful one; a day of reflecting on man's frailty of character.

TO RALEIGH FOR STOCK LAW

Advance Guard of Advocates of State-Wide Measure Left Yesterday for Capital City—Big Crowd Expected.

Yesterday morning's A. & Y. train carried the advance guard of the advocates of State-wide stock law to Raleigh where today and tomorrow the battle will be on for the enactment of such a law. Over 1,000 men are expected to be in the capital for no other purpose but to fight for and against the proposition. Two hundred arrived there yesterday to support the Sampson county bill for stock law.

Besides those who left yesterday morning, others from all this section went on the afternoon and evening trains and this morning still others will go. Collector B. F. Keith, of this city, one of the most prominent of the fighters for stock law, who was at Kerr, left yesterday and various well known men boarded the train at every station between Wilmington and Fayetteville, and it was reported that practically all of them favored the proposed law.

Mr. E. B. Wright, of Boardman, president of the North Carolina Forestry Association, is expected to reach Raleigh today to convene the special meeting of the association called to urge the Legislature to adopt State-wide stock law.

It was reported on the A. & Y. train among the numerous stock-law people that Representative Bellamy, of Brunswick county, would not oppose the law, but that Representative J. T. Foy, of Pender, would do so, though it was said that they "had hopes" of winning him over. There was to be a caucus in Raleigh last night to plan for the big fight. The advocates, it was stated, would work hard for State-wide law, but if they couldn't get a whole loaf, they would take a half loaf—a few counties and townships added to the no-fence territory. Perhaps the warmest fight at all is in Sampson county, but with 200 for stock law, as reported, and only 12 in the delegation at Raleigh against it, it would appear that the advocates of the proposition will win.

"JUMPED ON DOCTOR STILES."

Charlotte Observer Discusses the Attack of Montgomery Paper.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer had the following editorial of interest here:

"The Montgomery Advertiser is one of those Southern journals which take little stock—too little—in hookworms, cattle ticks, and all that sort of thing. It considers activity against them a species of reflection upon the South, without sufficiently considering that they can be cleared out and that the main point, while we may well deprecate exaggerated statements, is to see that they are. Hence The Advertiser has no particular affection for Dr. Charles W. Stiles. He has further incurred its displeasure by what it characterizes as 'pernicious political activity' in the Hobson-Lathrop faction's behalf. So when he is reported as asserting that the women of the South are 'weaker in mind and body' than the women of Ohio, for instance, The Advertiser takes occasion to lash out at him with both feet.

"A citizen of this town just back from the Middle West was struck more than anything else with the great amount of hard, prolonged labor which the women out there perform. They do not only the housework but much of the rough work of the farm; and in the general lack of servants except among the wealthy people they toil hardly less strenuously in the towns. On the farms they operate most of the machinery extensively used for such purposes as dairying, but with the result that they get a great deal more done rather than have really fewer tasks. Of course this toilsome life for the women contributes much to the productiveness and prosperity of that section. On the other hand, it was our friend's observation—which accords with our own information—that it does not go well with the women themselves, who grow old before their time. If they are developed by it to a higher point of efficiency than Southern women, at least in the economic sense, we may still question whether they are more fortunate than our women of the South.

"We have an idea that the context of Dr. Stiles' reported remarks would show, in some such fashion, that he intended no comparison so disadvantageous to Southern women as the one isolated phrase would make it appear. The Advertiser is not propitiated by his reported boast that he hails 'from Old North Carolina.' It cites 'Who's Who' to show that he was born in Spring Valley, N. Y., although his home is given as Raleigh and his address as the Cosmos Club, Washington. His home is now, in fact, at Wilmington. The Advertiser sees him as 'a gentleman from Spring Valley who comes down here and makes untrue statements which reflect upon our women folks and are very offensive.' We recognize Dr. Stiles as a fully adopted North Carolinian whom our contemporary has in all likelihood misinterpreted or misunderstood."

New Organ Motor Tested.

The new motor installed in the First Baptist church organ has been tested by Miss Cannie Chasten, organist of the church, and Mr. McHenry McChord, organist-director of St. James' Episcopal church, and it proved entirely satisfactory in every particular. Mr. A. F. Stein, of New York City, who installed the motor, is now adjusting and tuning the organ. He is a practical organ builder, and his work has been most satisfactory. Upon concluding this work he will make extensive repairs and improvements of the organ at St. James' Episcopal church.

MAKES GOOD, HEALTHY FLESH.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. Offers to Pay for Samose If It Fails.

Begin the use of Samose today, and you will soon notice a gain in good, healthy flesh. To all who are thin, weak and run-down, this remarkable flesh-forming food promises plump, rosy, perfect health, vigor and vitality.

Most people eat enough to become fat; the trouble is not lack of food, but lack of assimilative power.

Samose mingles with the food that is eaten, so that it is assimilated by the blood, and builds up pleasing plumpness and good healthy flesh. Those who use Samose for a week or ten days will soon notice a gain in weight and an improvement in general strength and health.

Samose is in tablet form, pleasant to take, and is sold by one of the most reputable drug stores in Wilmington, under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

LA FRANCE

WITH THE MOVIES.

Four films, each a star and therefore a special feature, will compose today's big bill at the cozy, handsome Grand, plus, of course, a merry melange of the latest music. The Grand is ever up to snuff and in a Pathe Weekly today will show scenes attendant upon the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer, with Sulzer in action, and also the last game the New York Giants played with the Chicago Cubs, and in which Christy Mathewson was the slab artist. From this picture "fans" will get a chance of seeing what kind of trim Matty is in for the world's series, which start next week.

The rest of the films at the Grand today will all be daisies, and will be especially strong for fun. In Lubin's "Her Wooden Leg", in which the star part is played by clever Mae Hotely, will be found a scream, while, close on its heels will come another swift ribtickler in "On the Dumb Waiter," in which a fine cast appears, headed by Robert Fischer, who will portray the role of "Pat Flynn." There is yet another fine comedy, a big comedy drama, in fact, in Selig's "Tobias Turns the Tables." Yes, today is going to be a big winner at the Grand. Think of what you see at the Grand for only the tiny 5c.

Big Dramatic at Bijou.

A great dramatic masterpiece, "The Call," in two whopping big reels and with no less a distinguished actress and great favorite, Editor Story, in the stellar role, will head today's superb bill at the popular Bijou, where solid comfort, as well as the big show is always served up and where the price of admission never varies from 5 cents. In this great Vitagraph special release will be found one of the most thrilling of all dramas, dealing both with city and rugged Western life. It tells of a modern "Iago", who, in the end, is killed by the man whose home he has ruined and wife he has caused to fill an early grave. While a thriller it is decidedly wholesome and teaches a big moral. It is snap and action from start to finish and in this drama Miss Storey is said to do her cleverest and in every way greatest acting. Her support is made up of well known, popular artists, while the setting in the way of scenery is both massive and magnificent.

There is yet another notable film that will feature today's bill, being the Biograph's very latest, "An Indian's Loyalty," and it is something that is ultra good. There will be other clever features today at the popular Bijou.

TWO ADDRESSES ON AFRICA.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Morrison Heard by Large Congregations Sunday.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Morrison, who has spent 17 years in Africa as a missionary of the Presbyterian church, delivered two inspiring addresses on his work Sunday, speaking at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Large congregations heard him at both services. His wonderful story of achievement in the heart of the Dark Continent was a revelation to those who heard him, and he created a profound impression as he sketched some of the features of his remarkable career as a minister to those that sit in darkness.

He pictured the conditions in Africa upon his arrival in the Belgian Congo 17 years ago when the natives were idolatrous, immoral, filthy and ignorant—a state in which they had been for thousands of years. Now their condition has greatly changed. The natives have given up their idolatry, and in place of huts frame buildings have been erected. He attributed this remarkable transformation to the power of the Gospel. Practically all the African tribes in their uncivilized state are cannibals, and while the European governments have been working for years to break them of this barbarous practice, nothing but Christianity has been able to so change their lives that they no longer think it necessary to kill their fellowman for eating purposes.

Dr. Morrison summarized his message in the form of four questions as follows: Does the heathen need the Gospel? Will they accept it? Does the Gospel change their lives? What are we going to do about it? In the light of his many years of living among them he had no hesitancy in answering the first three questions affirmatively.

Dr. Morrison, who has been home on a vacation since last December, will sail for Luebo, Africa, on October 11th. He went from here to Lexington, Va., his home, to make preparations for his long trip. Before leaving he will address the North Carolina Presbyterian Synod at Greensboro on October 8th. He will take back with him a large number of Bibles printed in the native tongue, a grammar for which he himself made, and into the language of which he translated the Bible.

—Mr. H. P. Woodson, of Burgaw, was among the visitors yesterday, stopping at The Orton.

Wonderful Blood Remedy

Brings Health to a Host of Sufferers.

The remarkable action of S. S. S. in the blood is given impetus by a letter received from Earl C. Cook, 708 South Center St., Bloomington, Ill. He says, "I suffered several months and took treatment here, but obtained relief only for a few days at a time. Becoming doubtful of results, I quit the doctors, and there was marked improvement from the start. I used thirteen bottles of S. S. S. and was entirely cured. My blood was in a dreadful condition, and I can not thank S. S. S. enough for my wonderful recovery."

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 192 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

Do not accept anything claimed to be "just as good." There is nothing else to take the place of S. S. S.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Suffered Three Years. Used Resinol. Now Not A Pimple To Be Seen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27, 1912. "I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. The pimples would come out, fester up and cause me to pick at them, feeling very uncomfortable. I tried most all kinds of facial creams, but with no effect. I tried a sample of Resinol Soap and Ointment and noticed instant relief. I bought Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and began the treatment. After using two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, there was not a pimple to be seen, and now my face is as smooth as if there was never a pimple on it." (Signed) Albert Greenburg, 4167 Frankford Ave.

For eighteen years Resinol has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, dandruff, red, rough faces and hands, sores, piles, etc. Stops itching instantly. Sold by all druggists, Resinol Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c. and $1.00, but you can try them without cost—just write for liberal samples to Dept. 18-M, Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

Prices Eased Off Under Realizing of Scattered Selling fr a Reaction —Weather Reports Encour age Selling.

New York, Sept. 29.—The cotton market was less active today, with prices easing off under realizing of scattered selling for a reaction.

The forecast for clearing weather in the Western belt, and private predictions that more favorable conditions might also follow the local rains, indicated for tonight or tomorrow east of the river, appeared to encourage selling, with sentiment also influenced by the rapidity of the recent advance, and talk of increased receipts.

Offerings did not become general or aggressive and were probably restricted to some extent by renewed predictions of a bullish October bureau at noon next Thursday, but while more or less irregular, the market gradually worked lower and closed steady, at a net decline of from 10 to 18 points.

The Washington news was considered much more encouraging, as it indicated that the Underwood substitute for the Clarke cotton tax amendment was much less drastic than shown by the reports current on Saturday, and suggested that either this substitute would be accepted or that the whole question would probably be carried forward into the next regular session of Congress.

Liverpool failed to meet Saturday's late decline in the American markets, and after opening steady at a decline of 5@11 points, prices here rallied on covering and bull support. The demand, however, was much less general than it has been on the advances of last week, and after selling 2 or 3 points net higher, the market weakened under realizing.

One of the leading local bull interests bought freely on a scale-down, but otherwise, there did not appear to be many buyers around the ring, and closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest. It is rumored that some of the recent largest buyers have been heavy sellers around the 14 level, and trade buying seemed to be less in evidence today. Two private crop reports issued during the morning indicated a deterioration of 4.5 to 6.2 per cent. for the month, one placing the condition at 67.7, and the other at 65.1.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 14.30; middling gulf, 14.45; sales, 800.

SENATOR LODGE BAD OFF.

Noted Bay State Senator Has Operation—Condition Was Serious.

Nahant, Mass., Sept. 29.—U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, senior member of the Massachusetts delegation in Congress, who was operated on Friday for a gastric ulcer, according to his physician, "was not entirely out of danger."

News of the Senator's illness today leaked out by accident. It was learned that for 24 hours following the operation his life had been despaired of.

The operation itself, his physicians said, was successful, but the patient, weakened by his labors at the extra session of Congress, did not have the vitality to promptly rally from the shock. His recovery, according to one of his physicians, largely is a matter of vitality, and his 64 years and the fact that he was a very sick man previous to the operation, must be taken into consideration. According to physicians, the Senator's condition late tonight was "excellent."

STOCKS ROSE, THEN FELL

Active Movement Confined to First Hour—New High Mark for Union Pacific—Heaviness of Steel A Feature.

New York, Sept. 29.—Active movements in stocks today were confined to the first hour. Trading was slow, with a drift downward, except in the cases of Reading and Union Pacific.

Union Pacific at 1.62¾ reached a new high mark for the present movement, which was within half a point of the year's best figures. On heavy offerings of the favorite stocks, the market quickly rose and fell rapidly. Union Pacific dropped more than 2 points. Canadian Pacific lost nearly 3, other representative issues lost 1 to 2.

Despite the feeble resistance offered, the market was not long under severe pressure. The market showed no recuperative power and during the remainder of the day was dull.

Steel was watched more closely than any other stock, as the heaviness of steel exerted a depressing influence.

Much of the day's selling of Steel was believed to be on orders from Boston.

Missouri Pacific moved against the market. Buying of this stock was prompted by the excellent showing in the road's annual report, which revealed a surplus of $1,562,000 for the year, as compared with a deficit of over $2,000,000 in the preceding period.

Bonds were easy, with increased activity in some speculative issues. Total sales, par value, $1,525,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales were $26,800, including: A. C. L., 200; C. and O., 700; Lehigh Valley, 400; L. and N., 100; N. and W., 800; Reading, 44,500; S. A. L., 200; S. A. L. pfd., 100; Southern Railway, 1,400; Tennessee Copper, 600; Union Pacific, 54,200; U. S. Steel, 78,200; V.-C. C., 400.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Wilmington Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

If your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
If urinary troubles set in,
Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

L. H. Partin, 505 Chesnut street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "My back was weak and lame and I had acute pains across my loins. The secretions from my kidneys were highly colored and filled with sediment and caused me much distress when being voided. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a box from Bellamy's drug store and began using them according to directions. They acted just as represented and drove away all the symptoms of the complaint. I am pleased to confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

effect of any rates agreed upon shall not extend beyond the limits of North Carolina so as to effect reduction in other States.

"It is true that that principle was agreed upon at Raleigh in the February agreement, it being expressly provided therein that an order was to be obtained from the Inter-State Commerce Commission which would protect the carriers from reductions in their rates to other territory caused by any reductions which might be agreed upon to North Carolina points.

"When the Governor, through Mr. Travis of the Corporation Commission, conveyed to us the suggestion that the Inter-State Commerce Commission might hesitate to make such an order and that an insuperable obstacle might thereby be created to making the proposed rates effective, the carriers accepted the Governor's suggestion and agreed to eliminate the clause referred to.

"3. Whether it is the understanding of the carriers that the expressed proviso in their proposition of September 12th has been eliminated which provided that if the proposal of the carriers was accepted, there should be no punitive or retaliatory legislation on the part of the State.

No Strings to Proposal.

"The facts in regard to this are that the proposal of the carriers, dated September 12th, as originally submitted, and which the legislative commission doubtless had before them when preparing their report to the Governor, did contain a proviso to that effect. The Governor, however, before making his recommendation to the Legislature, conveyed to the carriers, through Mr. Travis, an objection to this language. Our understanding was that the Governor objected to even the appearance of contracting away the freedom of the State in respect to legislation, and the carriers, accepting the Governor's view, consented to the elimination of the clause relating to punitive and retaliatory legislation, and this was accordingly done. It is not the intention of the carriers to be technical in regard to this matter. They have proposed to make these reductions in order to meet, as far as practicable, the desire and will of the people of North Carolina, hoping thereby to secure their good will and to establish entirely harmonious relations with the State. In order to do this they have proposed to make great sacrifices in their earnings—sacrifices they could not afford to make except for the purpose of securing the good will of the people and the harmonious relations which they so much desire. Having gone so far in a spirit of compromise to meet the wishes of the people, the carriers are relying for their protection, not on any contract with the State—for there is none—but upon the sense of fairness and justice of the representatives of the people and upon the faith that, if the State should accept the proposal, such course will thereafter be pursued by the State as would be in keeping with the spirit of the settlement and just, fair and equitable under the circumstances."

The letter is signed by the presidents of the A. C. L. and Southern and the vice president of the Seaboard.

Senate Bills Yesterday.

New bills introduced today in the Senate included:

Thorn: Amend the Nash county road law.

Studdert: Amend the charter of Washington; authorize the city officials of Washington to pay the chief of police an amount due him.

Bellamy: Amend the law as to the bond of the treasurer of New Hanover county.

Peterson: Tax dogs in Sampson county.

Hobgood: Charter the Atlantic Holiness University.

Brown: Amend the charter of the Salisbury & Fayetteville Coast Line Railroad Company.

Pharr: Amend the revisal as to publishing the public and private acts of the Legislature, especially so as to require the volumes to be out within 30 days after the adjournment.

Pharr: Amending the Constitution as to homestead exemptions.

McLeod: Change the name of school tax district No. 1, Robeson county, and allow a bond issue; authorize bond issue by Rowland; repeal act of 1913 as requiring proper deposit of all funds in Robeson county; two bills amending the road law of Robeson county.

Little: Authorize Raleigh to issue bonds.

Evans, of Pitt: Regulate pay of jurors in Pitt county.

Thorne: Joint resolution for a committee to be created to frame the general laws to be enacted in the event of the ratification of the proposed constitutional amendments.

Thomas: Provide a graded school bond election in Statesville.

Passed Final Reading.

Bills passed final reading included:

Incorporate town of Dublin, Bladen county; validate a bond issue by Beaufort; authorize $30,000 bonds by Fayetteville for extending the light plant; tax dogs in Sampson county and make them subjects of larceny; amend the charter of Washington; amend the law as to the bond of the treasurer of New Hanover; protect live stock in Harnett county west of the Cape Fear river; authorize the payment of a debt by Washington to the chief of police.

Senate adjourned to 10 o'clock Tuesday.

New House Bills.

Among the new bills introduced in the House were:

Young, of Harnett: Amend bill on constitutional amendments; Give Superior Court concurrent jurisdiction with Recorder's courts.

Clayton: To amend drainage laws in Hyde county. On objection, bill was referred to committee on proposition and grievances, it being as Mr. Williams, of Buncombe, pointed out, that old Mattamuskeet Lake matter.

McBride: Amend law relative to division of State into judicial districts.

Stevens: Authorize commissioners of Wayne to make certain improvements on court house.

Whitford: Amend charter of Newbern; Authorize Newbern to issue bonds.

Faircloth: Amend the road laws of Sampson county.

New Hanover Health Bill.

Kellum: To amend laws relative to Board of Health in New Hanover county, as follows:

"Section 1. The Board of Health of New Hanover county shall at the time provided for by chapter 316 of the Public Local Laws of 1913, submit in writing to the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county and the Council of the city of Wilmington an itemized statement of the estimated cost and expenses of said Board of Health, for the ensuing twelve months which shall include in detail the salaries of different officials and employes of said Board of Health and the said Board of Commissioners and the Council of said city may in their discretion approve of disapprove the same, and whenever the said Council and said Board, or either of them shall appropriate and turn over to the said Board of Health any amount of money to be expended by it for a special purpose, then it shall be unlawful for the said Board of Health to expend said amount for any other purpose than for which it was appropriated.

Sec. 2. Amend section 3 of chapter 316 of the Public Local Laws of 1913, by striking out the word "fix" in line seven and inserting in lieu thereof the word "recommend"; amend section 7 by striking out the word "fix" in line 9 and inserting in lieu thereof the word "recommend", and amend section 7 of said act by striking out the word "fix" in line 21 and insert in lieu thereof the word "recommend."

Sec. 3. Amend section 4 of said act by striking out the word "four-fifths" in line four and insert in lieu thereof the word "three-fourths," and further amend said section by striking out the word "one-fifth" in line five, and insert in lieu thereof the word "one-fourth."

Sec. 4. That the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county shall not be required to defray any part of the expense of the sanitary department of the city of Wilmington, nor shall the governing authority of the city of Wilmington be required to defray any part of the expense for sanitation in that part of New Hanover county beyond the corporate limits of the city of Wilmington, but such expense for sanitation shall be borne respectively for the city by the governing authorities thereof, and for the county outside the city limits by the Board of Commissioners of the county.

Sec. 5. That it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county and the Council of the city of Wilmington to pay their proportion of the appropriation made to the County Board of Health for the current fiscal year, so as to comply to the provision of this act.

Sec. 6. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification."

To Limit Local Bills.

Other House bills were:

Williamson: Relative to the delivery of freight in the State.

Payne: Establish Recorder's court for Currituck county.

Ruffin: Exempt mortgage bonds and other debts of educational institutions from taxation.

Boney: Regulate time for holding courts in Duplin county.

Roberts: Amend the law as to the salary of the attorney general.

Phillips: Validate certain grants on records in the office of the Secretary of State.

Mr. Justice made inquiry as to how much longer local bills would hold sway and moved that the committee on rules formulate a rule governing this matter. Mr. Doughton, chairman, stated that he would call a meeting of the committee for this purpose Tuesday.

Page: Amend law affecting Superior Courts in Moore county.

The House adjourned to 8 o'clock tonight.

Bible Reading Amendment.

The Senate and House committees on Constitutional Amendments gave a lengthy joint hearing this afternoon on the amendment proposal prescribing that the use of the Bible in the schools shall not be prohibited. The House committee lated voted 14 to 8 for unfavorable report.

The hearing was a lengthy and spirited one. In opposition to the measure there were heard Rev. Livingston Johnson; David Stern, Greensboro; Dr. Vann, Raleigh; W. L. Poteat, Wake Forest; Marcus Jacobi, Wilmington.

For the amendment were J. W. Gulledge, Wadesboro, representing the Junior Order United American Mechanics; Rev. C. D. Herman, Wadesboro; J. D. McCall, Charlotte; Rev. Mr. Hilliard, High Point; President Hill, of Atlantic College; Bruce Craven, of Trinity.

Dr. Joyner Against It.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, was introduced by the advocates of the amendment, but after a general review of the situation, setting out that the Bible is now being freely used in the schools throughout the State with no clashes of any kind, and in view of heated discussion in the committee and prospect of inflaming the public mind in any campaign for amendment adoption, he urged that the Constitution be left as it is without amendment. In the House committee Representative Dowd gave notice of minority report in favor of the amendment.

The Senate committee decided to wait to Tuesday afternoon to take its vote on the amendment.

Stock Law Battle Opens.

The House Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns heard 40 or more delegates from Wayne county this afternoon for and against a pending bill to apply stock law to three remaining districts now "open territory" in Wayne. George E. Hood represented the delegates insisting on the law remaining as the last Legislature left it. M. H. Allen pleaded for the pending bill. The committee voted for unfavorable report.

Delegates of 200 for and 12 against the Peterson bill for stock law in Sampson county arrived this afternoon and will be heard in committee tomorrow.

Last Night's Session.

The House at the night session cleared the calendar of a great number of local bills, including the following:

Amend the law authorizing Dunn to issue bonds.

Authorize bond issue by Goldsboro and Indian Springs, Wayne county, for Goldsboro, Seven Springs & Swansboro Railroad.

Authorize Limestone township, Duplin county, to issue bond for road construction.

Authorize bonds by Goldsboro; authorize bonds for Sanford graded schools; change boundaries of Sanford school djstrict and apply compulsory school attendance; authorize assessments for street improvement in Fairmont and Trenton; authorize school bonds in Columbus county; amend the charter of Clinton; provide drainage outlet for canal in Columbus county; empower certain counties to employ banks or trust companies as county treasurers; promote better drainage and health conditions in Onslow county; amend law relative to vote in Onslow county on salaries for officers; amend the Perquimans road law; amend law as to court in Pitt; amend Nash county road law; provide better depot facilities in Jacksonville; authorize Wayne county commissioners to improve court house square.

Provide for the State Board of Health to take over the State sanitorium for tuberculosis at Montrose; amend the vital statistics law so as to provide compensation to registers in counties and towns; incorporate North Carolina Association of Workers for the Blind.

Senators Oppose Bible Amendment.

The Senate Committee on Constitutional Amendments got together this evening after having decided to defer vote on the amendment proposal as to the Bible in the public schools, until tomorrow, and voted unanimously for unfavorable report on the measure.

the full conference committee, convened by Chairman Simmons, had given the reports its formal approval.

Senators Simmons, Williams, Johnson and Shiveley and Representatives Underwood, Kitchin, Dixon and Rainey, the Democrats who have adjusted all difficulties between the Senate and House excepting only the cotton futures tax proposition, signed the final report, while the Republican and Progressive members declined to sign.

The House will take up the tariff bill at 11 o'clock tomorrow and it is believed it will be passerd before adjournment. It is expected to reach the Senate Wednesday and to pass that body by Thursday.

The cotton future tax still is in dispute, the House refusing to accept the so-called Clark amendment adopted by the Senate.

Expressions from the White House and from Congressional leaders today indicated the whole plan might be dropped from the tariff bill and taken up as a separate measure next Winter.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, tonight gave out the first complete estimates on Federal revenues and expenditures under the new tariff bill, as computed by experts of the Treasury Department.

The total estimates are as follows:

For the year ending July 1, 1914: Receipts $1,029,000,000; expenditures $1,013,000,000; surplus $16,000,000.

For the year ending July 1st, 1915: Receipts $1,026,000,000; Expenditures $1,008,000,000; surplus $18,000,000.

The estimated receipts under the customs tariff, the income tax and the corporation tax, embraced in the new tariff are:

For 1914: Customs revenues $270,000,000; income tax (ten months) $66,000,000; corporation tax $38,000,000.

For 1915: Customs revenues $249,000,000; income tax $83,000,000; corporation tax $39,000,000.

"The customs revenues will be larger for the current fiscal year 1914," said Senator Simmons, because the rates of the Payne-Aldrich law have been in force for the first quarter and will continue in force on wool and woolen goods until January 1st, and in sugar until March 1st.

"When the next fiscal year begins July 1st, 1914, all the rates of the new law will be in operation and the tariff duties collected will be smaller.

"The income tax, which is collected for the calendar year, can be collected for only ten months of the present year, as the law specifies that collection shall not go back of March 1, 1913. The estimated decrease in the total expenditures of the government for 1915, $5,000,000 is based on the fact that smaller expenditures are expected for the army and navy establishments."

The balance of the total government income is made up of postal receipts, internal revenue receipts, the profits from public land sales and other sources.

TERRIBLE ORDEAL SAFELY ENDED

Broken in Health, Miserable, Suffering, for a Score of Years, Lady Came Safely Through Ordeal.

Johnson's Bayou, La.—Mrs. L. P. Semar, of this own, who has been in a deplorable condition for years, now makes the following statement: "I was a great sufferer, for 20 years, with pains in my back, right side, headache and lower bowels, was very irregular, and also suffered terribly at times, with dizziness and faintness .

"During this time, I tried six different doctors, but could get no relief.

"I heard of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and began taking it. After having taken a course of this treatment (six bottles), according to directions, I feel no pain, am regular, am able to do all of my work and, in fact, feel like a new woman.

"I can surely recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic, to all women suffering from female disorders."

Cardui is the ideal medicine for women. It is prepared especially for women, and contains ingredients which act directly on the weak womanly organs, thus helping to build up, in a gentle, natural way, the entire womanly constitution to a healthy condition.

The wonderful success which Cardui has attained, in its past 50 years of continuous use, is due principally to its merit. It has helped many hundreds of thousands of weak women. It will surely help you, too.

Try Cardui.
